Carnegie Institution Now Launched

CARNEGIE GIVES THE STEEL BONDS TO THE TRUSTEES

Institution Bearing His Name Now Organized, Gilman President.

GROVER CLEVELAND DECLINES OFFICE

The Donor Tells Why He Sacrificed His Cherished Idea of University.

THAT IS FOR THE FUTURE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—An adjourned meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie institution was held at the state department this afternoon and a long step was taken toward permanent organization. Abram S. Hewitt of New York called the meeting to order, Secretary Hay was elected temporary chairman and Charles D. Walcott temporary secretary.

William F. Dodge of New York was elected to the board to fill a vacancy caused by the declination of ex-President Cleveland, who sent a letter regretting his inability to serve.

After accepting the deed of gift the trustees proceeded to adopt by-laws and then elected these officers: Chairman of the board of trustees, Abram Hewitt; vice chairman, Dr. J. S. Billings; secretary, Charles D. Walcott.

Dr. Gilman First President.

Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, late of Johns Hopkins university, was elected president of the Carnegie institution.

Andrew Carnegie made a brief address, presenting the deed of gift. He said:

"I beg to thank you deeply for so promptly, so cordially aiding me by acceptance of trusteeship. A note from the president congratulates me upon 'the high character—indeed, I may say, the extraordinarily high character—of the trustees'—such are his words. I believe this estimate has been generally approved throughout the wide boundary of the United States.

"My first thought was to fulfill the expressed wish of Washington by establishing a university here, but a study of the question forced me to the conclusion that under present conditions were Washington still with us his finely-balanced judgment would decide that in our generation at least such use of wealth would not be the best.

Sacrificed a Cherished Idea.

"One of the most serious objections, and one which I could not overcome, was that another university might tend to weaken existing universities. My desire was to co-operate with all educational institutions and establish what would be a source of strength, and not of weakness, to them, and the idea of a Washington university or of anything of a memorial character was, therefore, abandoned.

"It cost me some effort to push aside the tempting idea of a Washington university founded by Andrew Carnegie, which the president of the Woman's George Washington Memorial association was kind enough to suggest. That may be reserved for another in the future, for the realization of Washington's desire would perhaps justify the linking of another name with his, but certainly nothing else would.

University Would Cost More.

"This gift, or the donor, has no pretentions to such honor, and in no wise interferes with the proposed university or with any memorial. It has its own more modest field and is intended to co-operate with all kindred institutions, including the Washington university, if ever built, and it may be built if we continue to increase in population as heretofore for a generation. In this hope I think the name should be sacredly held in reserve. It is not a matter of $1,000,000 or $10,000,000, or even of $20,000,000, but of more, to fulfill worthily the wish of Washington, and I think no one would presume to use that almost sacred name except for a university of the very first rank, established by national authority, as he desired. Be it our part in our day and generation to do what we can to extend the boundaries of human knowledge by utilising existing institutions.

His Closing Felicitation.

"Gentlemen, your work begins; your aims are high; you seek to extend known forces and to discover and utilize new forces for the benefit of man. Than this there can scarcely be greater work. I wish you abundant success, and venture to prophesy that through your efforts, in co-operation with those of kindred societies in our country, contributions to the advancement of the race through research will compare in the near future not unfavorably with those of any other land."

The deed transfers to the trustees $10,000,000 of registered 5 per cent bonds of the United States Steel Corporation. This Forced Rebel Fleet Back to the Shore.

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, Jan. 29.—The Colombian government fleet, consisting of the steamers Boyaca and Chucuito and the armed launch General Campo, which left here yesterday to make an attempt to break the blockade of Agua Dulce, where the revolutionary fleet was last seen, met the insurgent steamer Padilla at Yeguala, 30 miles from Panama, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and opened fire on her. The revolutionary steamers Darien and Gaitan appeared on the scene soon after the engagement began.

The fire of the Chucuito was so well directed that it caused the revolutionary fleet to draw on toward the shore, where the enemy's ships were protected by land batteries. The Chucuito and Boyaca then retired unmolested.

PROBING THE BIG BRIBERY SCANDAL TO ROCK BOTTOM

Warrant Out for Arrest of Wainwright, Millionaire St. Louis Brewer.

NO MONEY, NO ORDINANCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29.—The grand jury, pursuing its investigation into the municipal assembly bribery this afternoon, caused Judge Fisher to issue a bench warrant for Ellis Wainwright, the millionaire president of the St. Lewis Brewing association and director in the Suburban Street Railway Company. The sheriff who undertook to arrest Mr. Wainwright reported to the court that Wainwright is not in the city. He was said to be in New York city where he has made his home for some months, but it was learned tonight that Mr. Wainwright is in Cairo, Egypt.

The grand jury is in session tonight, and Circuit Attorney Folk is authority for the statement that several more bench warrants will be issued either tonight or tomorrow morning.

The bribery scandal is assuming colossal proportions and threatens to involve not only many members of the last and present municipal assembly, but many directors and officers of the Suburban railroad and several politicians whose names are known throughout the country.

The Probe Going Deep.

Circuit Attorney Folk tonight made this statement:

The state will not rest with Suburban investigation. We have gone back to the Central Traction boodle scandal and to the North and South hill, the Central Traction's predecessor. We are probing the circumstances connected with these pieces of desired legislation and we hope to bring all guilty parties to justice.

A prominent citizen, whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, said tonight that a director of the Suburban railroad told him today that to avoid the exposure men of high political, social and religious standing in the community would have raised $10,000,000 if that sum would have granted them immunity from being pilloried by the grand jury.

"The same director told me," continued the informant, "that the directors of the Suburban would have willingly surrendered the entire Suburban property to anyone who could have guaranteed them immunity from this exposure."

No Legislation Without Money.

Ex-Gov. Charles P. Johnson made this statement this afternoon:

Charles H. Turner, president of the Suburban railroad, told me it was almost impossible to secure the passage of any kind of measure through the municipal assembly without putting up large sums of money. Mr. Turner said he was asked for a large sum of money and that he put it up. He does not deny that he put the $135,000 in the safety deposit boxes of the Mississippi Valley and Lincoln Trust Company; nor does he deny that the money was placed for the purpose of securing the passage of the Suburban franchise bill through the municipal assembly. It was necessary, Mr. Turner told me, to pay money to secure the passage of the bills, and there being no other way to deal in the matter, the money was put into the deposit boxes. I believe every large corporation in St. Louis has been compelled to act in a similar manner whenever it has wanted anything. I advised Mr. Turner and Mr. Stock to tell the whole truth about the affair when they came to me for advice when the details of the affair became public.

Very Prominent Witnesses.

James Campbell, multi-millionaire broker, whose political influence is said to exceed that of any man in St. Louis, was before the grand jury, as was also Zach Tinker, candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor at the recent election. Mr. Tinker testified that he had no knowledge of the bribery conspiracy.

"I wish I had," he said, "before the last election; there would have been something doing."

Others examined by the grand jury today were Speaker George Kelly of the present house of delegates; Richard Hospes, cashier of the German Savings institution; Philip Stock, secretary of the St. Louis Brewing association, o. which Ellis Wainwright is president, and who is said to have held one key to each of two boxes in which the corruption fund was deposited.

MISS STONE RELEASED.

That is an Unconfirmed Rumor That Comes From Bulgarian Capital Through London.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Sofia correspondent of the Times, wiring under date of January 29, says:

"It is reported that Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka were liberated this morning on Turkish territory."

CLUB WOMAN IS CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Nomination Papers Filed for Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight in the Fifth Ward, Allegheny.

Kate Cassatt McKnight, club woman and member of a notable family, is a candidate for school director in the Fifth ward of Allegheny. Nomination papers, signed by 500 residents of the ward, have been filed with the county commissioners. An active campaign is already under way. Miss McKnight's chances of success are considered excellent.

Miss McKnight is the daughter of the Hon. Robert McKnight, during his life a prominent member of the Allegheny county bar and at one time a member of congress from the Twenty-third district. She is a granddaughter of Harmar and Elizabeth F. Denny. She has resided all her life in the family homestead, "Kilbuck," in Western avenue, Allegheny.

She is prominent in the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Twentieth Century club, and in the North Presbyterian church. She is vice president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. The Civic club of the Fifth ward was founded by her. Her interest in the children of the ward has always been deep and kindly. Each year she has provided for the entertainment and instruction of some 300 of them at the Fifth Ward school during the summer months.

William Pennington of the La Belle steel works and W. I. Mayer, a cigar dealer at Liberty and Market streets, Pittsburgh, are her opponents. They are candidates on the Republican ticket.

RAIN OF BULLETS GREET BURGLARS IN WOMAN'S HOME

Officers Got Tips and Laid a Trap for the Robbers, Who Fight Desperately for Freedom.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GALLIPOLIS, O., Jan. 29.—A desperate battle between two burglars named Harvey Williams and Lysle (full name unobtainable) on one side and Deputy Sheriff Manring of Gallipolis and Marshal Frintzwald of Athens, O., assisted by two deputies, was fought here tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Both burglars are dead and the sheriff and marshal are severely wounded.

The intended burglary was tipped off to the police of Athens and arrangements were made to catch the robbers. The burglars had planned to rob the house of Mrs. M. E. Priestly, who is said to be worth over $100,000.

The robbers entered the front gate and went around to the side and rear doors. Prior to this the marshal and sheriff of Athens county and Sheriff McDaniel and Deputy Sheriff Manring, Kuhn, a former marshal, and Police Officer Martin were posted at the home of Mrs. Priestly. McDaniel and Murphy were hidden in the coal house just outside the door, while the others were stationed within. John Priestly, a nephew of Mrs. Priestly, was dressed as a woman, and, although in the thick of the fight, was not hurt.

The burglars became wary, for no sooner had they opened the rear door and saw Priestly, dressed as a woman, than they began fighting. Manring, Kuhn and Martin opened fire as soon as the burglars were within. The men evidently knew a job and been set up on them, and they shot to kill. By this time Sheriffs Murphy and McDaniel rushed in from the outside and began firing.

When all was quiet once more, it was seen that Harvey Williams had been riddled with bullets, as well as his pal, Lysle.

Won the Love of the South.

To promote the restoration of cordial feelings between the sections of our country which has been its deadly difference was a purpose close to his heart. When he lay upon his bed of suffering no messages could exceed in sympathy and love those which came from the southland. Had there been room, no resolve of the funeral cortege would have received thousands who had borne arms against the union.

No matter to what heights of success he arose in coming home, William McKinley was ever the same to the neighbors and friends of his early manhood. To others he may have been the ruler of the first of nations—entrusted with power to make or mar a people's destiny. At home he was ever the guide, counsellor and friend of those who knowing him best loved him most.

McKinley's Ideal Home.

His ideal of home was one of peace and comfort, not extravagance and display. The American home, he declared, where honesty, sobriety and truth dwelled, and a people's everyday virtues, without pomp and ostentation is practiced, is the nursery of all true education. It is in homes such as this that the people, bereft of one of their own, mourn his departure. It was in the upbuilding of such homes that William McKinley found his highest duty of constructive statesmanship and the true safeguard of Republican institutions.

Faced Death Without a Murmur.

So gentle, kind and true had been this life that not even his slayer could strike at him. With this gentleness what mighty strength. Death came and fell on one of the strongest as he is then stands unveiled. With so much to make life dear, the gentleman did not falter when the summons came. Looking forward to retirement in the home he loved, to the affection of his countrymen and the respect of the world, holding the hand of his loved companion whose welfare had ever been the first object of his life, and whose unfailing strength had made his last summer one of the brightest, he entered the valley of the shadow of death with no murmur at his fate, leaning on the rod and staff which had comforted his fathers, dying as he had lived, in humble submission to the will of God.

Will Never Be Forgotten.

He lives in the love of his countrymen. His character will grow brighter with the years, the noble traits of his life, the sublime heroism of his death, shall never perish from the memory of men. He will live in the thousands of homes where comfort and domestic peace reflect the wisdom of his statesmanship. He will live in the beneficence of his example at every hearth where succeeding generations shall recount the strength and beauty of his character and tell again the story of his life.

McKinley memorial day was very generally celebrated all over the country. Appropriate exercises were held in public schools, where contributions to the McKinley memorial fund were received. At Canton, O., the home of the late president, especial solemnity marked the day and a eulogistic address was made by William Dudley Foulke of Indiana.

Judge Day of Canton Delivers Eulogistic Address Before Chicago Audience.

SOLEMN DAY AT CANTON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Chicagoans of all ranks and stations honored the name of William McKinley today—the anniversary of his birth. Flags throughout the city were at half-mast and memorial services were held in many churches, schools and Grand Army of the Republic camps. All the city offices and the county courts were closed for the day. The services culminated in a meeting at Studebaker hall tonight under the auspices of the Hamilton club, where Judge William R. Day of Ohio was the principal speaker.

Federal Judge Peter S. Crosscup presided. Judge Day was received with hearty applause and spoke in part as follows:

McKinley's Faith in the People.

William McKinley, boy and man, was a type of the best possibilities of American life. He was devoted to his country and its institutions. He did not concur in the Napoleonic theory that a man in power should undertake to shape events to his own selfish purposes. He believed the sober sense of the people of a republic was the ultimate appeal of the statesman. To every question of public policy he gave the most earnest and careful thought and sought to guide the public sentiment in the channels which he considered to be the best for the general good. His career was a steady growth from his entrance into public life to his last speech at Buffalo, which comes to us with the force of the last words of wisdom and the tender beauties of a benediction.

Fatal Flight of Runaway Street Cars

ICY RAILS CAUSE DEATH OF THREE AT WILMERDING

Sixteen Others Were Injured, Five of Them Seriously, in the Wreck of Two Street Cars.

CONTROL WAS LOST AT TOP OF THE LONG, STEEP HILL

Wild Run for a Mile and a Quarter Sends One Car Far Beyond the End of the Track, the Second Crashing Into It.

SPECTATORS OF THE ACCIDENT FELL VICTIMS

Icy rails on the East McKeesport and Wilmerding division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company last night caused two accidents that resulted in the death of three persons and the injury of 16 others, five of whom are in a critical condition.

Shortly before 8 o'clock car No. 384 got beyond control on the long, steep hill that ends at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Wilmerding. After a run of one mile and a quarter at high speed it passed the end of the track and was overturned.

Twelve minutes later car No. 371 got beyond control under exactly similar circumstances. It crashed into the wreck of the first car, killed the conductor, one member of the crowd that surrounded it and one passenger. All the injured were hurt in the same way.

The casualties are as follows:

KILLED.

ROBERT KIRSCH, 30, Flowers avenue, Pittsburgh; conductor on second car.
MISS MARY KINKAID, 19, Fite station; passenger on second car.
JOHN E. M'SPADDEN, Wilmerding; standing on depot platform.

INJURED.

CHARLES WRIGHT, motorman on first car; crushed about body; arm broken; condition serious.
JAMES FRYNE, motorman of second car; crushed about body; head cut; condition serious.
FRANK SMALL, East McKeesport; right leg broken in two places; badly bruised; condition serious.
MRS. JOHN PATRICK, Wilmerding; left leg broken in two places; injured internally; condition serious.
ALEXANDER SAUNDERS, negro driver; leg broken and badly cut; condition serious.
JOSEPH HEEL, McKeesport; compound fracture of knee; taken to Mercy hospital.
THOMAS CAMPBELL, Margaretta street, Wilmerding, teller in the Farmers National bank, Pittsburgh; leg sprained, and badly cut about the head and body.
GOMER DAVIS, Wall; injured about head, body and legs.
JACOB SMITH, Wall; hurt about the head.
CHARLES BROWN and LIZZIE MINNER BROWN, thrown from carriage and badly bruised.
MISS ECCLES E. WILSON, No. 617 Market street, McKeesport; slightly injured by splinters.
MRS. I. H. EDWARDS, Wilmerding; arm and ankle injured.
HENRY HENNING, McKeesport; jaw broken.
JOHN HILL, Wilmerding; bruised all over.
C. STEVENS, No. 617 Water street, McKeesport; shoulder broken.
MRS. NANCY WILSON, No. 617 Market street, McKeesport, seriously injured.

Car No. 371 in its flight struck a carriage occupied by Charles Brown and Lizzie Minner Brown. They were on their way to the station to begin their wedding trip after their marriage. Their injuries were such that after surgical attention they were able to continue their journey. Alexander Saunders, the colored driver of the carriage, was seriously hurt.

Excitement reigned high in Wilmerding for hours. Eight surgeons were promptly secured and the station was turned into an emergency hospital. The most critically injured were hurried to the Mercy hospital.

Supt. G. W. Betteridge of division No. 4, and Supt. Fred Wilhelm of division No. 5 gave their personal attention to the victims and to the clearing up of the wreck.

FATAL DASHES OF TWO RUNAWAY CARS.

A few moments after 8 o'clock last night car No. 384 of the East McKeesport and Wilmerding divisions of the Pittsburgh Railways Company broke away at the top of a steep hill near East McKeesport, a mile and a half above Wilmerding station, dashed down the icy grade, jumped the track at the terminus of the road, and before Motorman Charles Wright could control it hurled itself against the side of the station.

Wright was thrown with terrific force from his position and fell head foremost on the ground.

Four passengers on the car were thrown violently against the front of the car, and were hurled for a time in the debris.

Twelve minutes later, while a score and more spectators were trying to get them out car 371 dashed down the same steep hill, jumped the track and before any could escape, plowed through the crowd crushing everyone in its path and into the wrecked car.

A moment and the air rang with the shrieks of the dying and injured. There were scarcely two persons in all the crowd able to help one another.

For a quarter of an hour the sight was heartrending. Strong men were unbedded under the cars, women were maimed and ground pitifully for assistance. A message to the busy section of Wilmerding soon brought hundreds to the scene.

The yard men of the Pennsylvania railroad and every available physician was hurried to the wreck.

As the victims were taken out of the debris the extent of the disaster became more apparent.

Three were dead when found.

Three Killed Instantly.

John McSpadden, an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed instantly while helping to rescue the victims of the first wreck.

McSpadden's fate was a sad one. He has been a soldier in the Philippines for three years, having returned only about a month ago. He was married last week and his young wife is prostrated.

Robert E. Kirsch, conductor on the second car, was hurled from the rear end of the car and when reached was dead.

Miss Mollie Kinkaid of East McKeesport was hurled from the second car and was found wedged under the rear end when it toppled over.

At an early hour this morning a revised list showed a total of 2 dead, 16 injured, 5 of whom will probably die.

First on Division.

Officials of the Railways company stated that it was the first accident on this division, which was only opened for traffic last fall. It was built as a short line between McKeesport and Wilmerding, and was largely used by passengers to other towns along the Pennsylvania railroad. It had proven very popular, as it furnished a short cut from the Monongahela valley towns to the main line of the railroad. The line is only about three miles long and climbs the steep hill to East McKeesport and then descends to Wilmerding.

No earthly power, it is believed, could have stopped the cars once they secured a fair start on such a hill during weather such as yesterday's.

The grade begins at a point near Devinney's farm, a mile and a half from Wilmerding. Every inch of it is steep and at one point the track curve sharply around the hill, then descend a straight grade for three quarters of a mile.

When Charles Wright, the motorman of the first car, had mounted the grade from the East McKeesport side he felt the pressure becoming strong. The car seemed to hesitate for a second on the brink of the steep hill, then plunged down the grade.

Wright applied both power and hand brakes in vain. The speed of the flying car seemed to increase with every foot it traversed.

The brake lever was whisked from Wright's grasp, and the car seemed threateningly, while the friends of passengers hung desperately on.

ENTIRE WAR TAXES MAY BE WIPED OUT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee held a private conference tonight and decided to frame a bill for the reduction of war revenue taxes before proceeding further with the subject of Cuban reciprocity. Chairman Payne at once called a meeting of the full committee for tomorrow, when work on the war revenue reduction bill will begin.

It is fully understood that the majority is prepared to favor a measure effecting very large reductions, amounting practically to a repeal of the entire war taxes, and aggregating about $85,000,000.

Wright again secured the brake lever and put on the power brake, but the car still gathered impetus every rod.

As it struck the sharp curve, a half mile from the top of the hill, the inside wheels left the track, but its weight kept it from overturning.

Then the inside wheels settled down on the track once more and the runaway car continued on its wild gait.

A mile below was the bottom of the hill, where the line ended in another curve alongside the railroad station.

Wright's Gallant Effort.

Motorman Wright stood gallantly to his post and put all his force into an effort to check the car.

With the rapidity, almost of lightning, the intervening space was eaten up. The icy rails passed under the car in a continuous click, and the moments seemed hours to the men and women inside.

With a sharp lurch the car struck the curve at the foot of the hill, left the track and an instant later was crushed into an almost shapeless mass of debris against the stone and brick wall of the railroad station. As it struck the car seemed to rear up and collapse.

The idlers and passengers on the station platform rushed to the scene and tried to aid the injured and draw them out of the wreckage.

Hurry calls were sent to the police and physicians and the maimed were tenderly carried into the waiting rooms of the station where they were given aid.

While those injured in the first wreck were being helped, a second car was shooting down the steep hill with even greater speed. Half way down the grade was a carriage containing Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Wall station. They were returning from Turtle Creek, where they had been married a few minutes before. The Rev. J. Elmer Bittle performed the ceremony, and, leaving their friends, they were being driven to the railroad station to begin their wedding journey.

As he was driving carefully down the icy hill, Alexander Saunders, their driver, heard the noise of the oncoming car and turned out of the car track. Just as the rear wheel of the carriage left the rail the car struck it.

Carriage Demolished.

The carriage and its occupants were hurled to the ditch at the roadside. The bride and groom clung together and escaped without serious injury. The driver was thrown from his seat and severely hurt. The carriage was demolished and one horse badly hurt.

The car did not even seem to hesitate when it struck the carriage.

Miss Kincaid, a Mrs. Wilson and her married daughter, Mrs. Eckles, were the only passengers on the second car when it began its terrific plunge down the steep hill.

All three huddled together in the rear end and scarcely spoke a word during that awful ride, with death waiting at the bottom of the grade. The conductor, Robert E. Kirsch, stepped inside and comforted them as best he could.

They were jostled about the car, but managed to keep together until within a few yards of the terminus. Some of them thought it is believed, that they could save themselves by jumping at this point, but the car plunged into the little crowd about the wreck before they could move themselves.

The motorman was exerting every bit of his strength, even in the face of death, to avert disaster, but his effort was futile and he was pinned against the wall as the car struck.

The horror of the scene was trebled by the second wreck and the eight physicians who had reached the scene were kept busy for hours dressing injuries.

Those of the bystanders who had not themselves been injured immediately ran to the aid of the injured, and dozens who had received slight injuries kept silent and hid their hurts until the doctors treated the others.

Tried to Avert Accident.

Henry Henny, a sander for the railways company, tried earnestly to avert both wrecks. He sanded the rails on both sides a few moments previously, but it had no effect on cars. Henny was in the crowd and was thrown on the ground, breaking his left jaw. The number of the dead, however, make it a gruesome tale. McSpadden was struck by the second car on the station platform while he was attending to some of the injured in the first wreck. He was killed instantly. He was 24 years old and lived in McKeesport.

Miss Kirkaid was hurled against the motor box and thrown again from the car as it tore madly through the crowd. She was found wedged under the rear end and gasped two or three times, then expired.

The other women fared better, though the shock and possible internal injuries that are not known yet may kill them. Miss Kirkaid was 19 years old and lived in East McKeesport. Her body was removed to her home. The conductor, Robert E. Kirsch, was also found under the debris. His body was sent to the morgue soon after it had been drawn from the wreckage. He was 30 years old and leaves a wife and two children in a pretty little home in Flowers avenue, Glenwood.

Thomas Campbell, a teller in the Farmers National bank, was standing on the station platform when the last car dashed against him. He was thrown on his face and badly cut.

Others Who Were Injured.

Frank Small of East McKeesport is one of the seriously injured. He was driven against the rear of the first car, his leg broken and his face and hands torn. It is feared that he is injured internally. He was removed to his home, but was not able to speak of the accident.

C. Steven, a McKeesport man, was in the rear of the first car. He held on to it tightly, but was thrown from his position when the car jumped the terminus. He, too, was seriously injured. It is believed that his back is broken.

COURTS WILL DECIDE CONTEST IN FIFTH WARD

POLICEMAN'S HOT LETTER

Patrolman Edward Hirsch Is Second in Sixteenth Ward to Resign, Because He Had to Assist in Machine's Campaign Work.

Roger Eagan, a Republican, and James Hamilton, a Democrat, are rival claimants for the Republican nomination for select council in the Fifth ward. The courts will be called upon to decide the contest. At a meeting of the Republican ward committee of the ward last night in the Hancock school house, presided over by Chairman Joseph Thompson, Eagan was nominated for the vacancy caused by the resignation of James A. Marr.

Hamilton was nominated at a second meeting held by adherents of the Sixth avenue organization, presided over by R. Bonacoe, an Italian fruit vender of Wylie avenue.

L. S. Levin, secretary of the ward committee, recorded the proceedings of the first meeting and withdrew with the other anti-machine members when Chairman Thompson declared the meeting adjourned. The meeting was opened by Marr announcing his withdrawal in favor of Hamilton.

L. S. Levin nominated Roger Eagan, a policeman in the downtown district. City Detective Bernard McStay moved to nominate Hamilton. Chairman Thompson ruled McStay's motion out of order, stating that Hamilton was a Democrat and that, under the rules of the Republican city committee, a Democrat could not be indorsed for an office when there was a Republican willing to run.

Policeman's Bold Defy.

No other Republican was suggested and Chairman Thompson announced that Eagan was the regular Republican candidate for select council and that he would certify to Eagan's nomination.

Edward Hirsch, a patrolman in the Sixteenth ward, resigned from the police force yesterday, refusing to obey orders to work for the organization ticket. Policeman Hirsch's resignation to Director A. H. Leslie, dated yesterday, was worded as follows:

Director A. H. Leslie.

Dear Sir: I hereby tender my resignation as patrolman in the Second police district, to take effect February 1, 1902. I am not for Flinn and will not work to force by neighbors and fellow-citizens to be for a ticket backed by him. I am willing to do my duty as a patrolman, but object to being sent out in plain clothes to solicit votes for a ring ticket which the people of the Sixteenth ward are not for. Yours respectfully,

EDWARD HIRSCH.

Herman Wessel, another policeman in the Sixteenth ward, has resigned from the force for the same reason, and it is reported that other resignations will follow.

About 500 tax receipts for the Eleventh, Seventh, Sixteenth, Fourteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-first and Thirty-eighth wards were delivered by county delinquent tax collector to the Citizens headquarters yesterday.

Seventeen Names Taken Off.

Citizens meetings will be held tonight in the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-sixth wards, addressed by prominent speakers. John B. Larkin, candidate for controller; ex-Recorder A. M. Brown and George W. Guthrie and others will speak in the Odd Fellows' hall, Twenty-sixth ward.

Before Judges Elliott Rodgers and J. D. Shafer in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday a hearing was held on the petition of John R. Brooks to have 42 names stricken from the registry list prepared by Register Assessor Albert Gratzianno of the Second district of the Second ward. Most of the witnesses heard were boarding house keepers and many of them swore that boarders, whose names are on the list, had moved away before and since the registration. M. M. Frey swore his son, C. Frey, 20 years old, is on the list. The assessor swore he had been careful in keeping the list. An order was made eliminating 17 names from the list and correcting the surnames and addresses of others entitled to be on the list.

Democratic Meetings.

Samuel J. Graham, chairman of the Democratic committee meetings and speakers yesterday announced the following schedule:

Thursday, January 30, Second ward, Friendship school, Charles A. O'Brien, George W. Guthrie, Charles S. Crawford and T. M. Brown.

Thursday, January 30, Twenty-sixth ward, Odd Fellows' hall, South Eighteenth street, George W. Guthrie, George H. Stengel, J. B. Larkin and J. H. Vichestein.

Thursday, January 30, Eleventh ward, Granville and Enoch streets, J. M. Foster and Ralph M. Strawbridge.

Thursday, January 30, Thirty-sixth ward, West End auditorium, W. J. Brennen, Charles Whitesides and Thomas M. Brown.

Friday, January 31, Thirty-seventh ward, Brushton school, S. B. Griffith, George M. Harton and James M. Dunn.

Friday, January 31, Fourteenth ward, Charles hall, Bellefield avenue, near Schenley park. Speakers to be announced.

Tuesday, February 4, Twenty-ninth ward, Bedford school, S. B. Griffith, George W. Guthrie and James M. Dunn.

Friday, February 7, Twenty-fifth ward, Schillersgiocke hall, Jane and South Twenty-sixth streets, S. B. Griffith and George W. Guthrie.

Saturday, February 8, Twenty-fourth ward, Wickersham school, Carson street, W. J. Brennen and George H. Stengel.

Thursday February 13, Twenty-eighth ward, Turner hall, South Thirteenth street, George W. Guthrie, S. B. Griffith, James M. Dunn and Ralph W. Strawbridge.

Friday, February 14, Seventeenth ward, Old Turner hall, A. M. Brown, W. B. Rodgers, John Marron and Charles A. O'Brien.

Saturday, February 15, Fourteenth ward, Soho school. Speakers to be announced later.

Monday, February 17, Sixteenth ward, Woolslair school, A. M. Brown, W. B. Rodgers, Charles A. O'Brien and Steve Boyle.

W. J. Brennen, Charles E. Whitesides and Thomas M. Brown addressed a large Citizens meeting last night in the Thirty-sixth ward.

Sixteenth Ward Meeting.

The Sixteenth ward Citizens party's branch headquarters at the corner of Thirty-seventh street and Penn avenue were opened last night with a well-attended meeting. James Wilson presided; Lewis Zueller was vice chairman, and William Miller secretary. Thomas O'Brien, Stephen Boyle and others addressed the meeting, each one in turn condemning the present city administration. At a mass meeting to be held at Woolslair school on Tuesday evening, February 4, Thomas M. Brown, Esq., George H. Stengel, Esq., and Charles E. Whitesides, Esq., will speak.

Ex-Recorder A. M. Brown, W. B. Rodgers, Esq., Charles O'Brien, Esq., and John, Marron, Esq., will address a mass meeting of Seventeenth ward citizens February 15 at old Turner hall, Forty-sixth and Butler streets.

The Ninth Ward Independent Political club, a Hebrew organization of 85 members, and claiming the control of 150 votes, last night indorsed the straight Republican ticket.

CITIES LIE BURIED IN FROZEN SNOW

HEAVY DAMAGE REPORTED FROM THE WEST AND SOUTH.

Little Rock, Ark., Loses $400,000 by Unusual Visitation—Louisville, Paducah and Other Southwestern Towns in Darkness—Pittsburgh Suffers None.

Unusual weather conditions prevailed over a large portion of the country yesterday, causing, in some places, heavy damage to property. Pittsburgh was to some extent a sharer in the discomfort which attended the fall of a mixture of hail and snow, but no serious damage or inconvenience had been reported this morning.

Different tales come from points in the west and southwest. Little Rock, Ark., reports five inches of frozen rain and losses amounting to $400,000. The street car lines were practically tied up. Roofs caved in with the weight of sleet and snow; telegraph and telephone lines were broken and communication with the outside world was almost entirely cut off.

Cities in the state of Kentucky report a similar state of affairs, Louisville, Lexington and Paducah being notable instances. In Paducah the mayor ordered all electric currents shut off until all danger from broken wires is past. This order stopped the running of trolley cars and compelled all concerns dependent upon electricity for light, heat or power to shut up shop. The damage at Paducah is estimated at $100,000.

The streets of Lexington are blocked by fallen trees and telegraph poles, and the danger from broken wires has been averted by shutting off the electric current, throwing the town into total darkness. Cincinnati reports great inconvenience and obstruction of traffic, but no serious damage.

At Louisville the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company sustained a serious accident through the bad weather. Three poles on the river front, carrying the Postal wires, which were covered with sleet, fell and the wires landed across some trolley wires. In an instant the Postal company's operating room was full of blue flames and then was cut off from outside communication.

CARNEGIE GIVES STEEL BONDS TO TRUSTEES

gift is to be held in trust, the income from the bonds or from other securities that may be substituted for them to be applied to paying the expenses of these trustees who are to receive the bonds and collect the interest, and may sell the same and invest the proceeds according to the laws of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, and who are not made responsible for the safety of the bonds or for their depreciation. They may appoint officers, fixing their salaries and provide for the financial business of the trust.

Object of the Fund.

The income is to be expended to founding in Washington an institution to cooperate with those now or hereafter established and in the broadest and most liberal manner encourage investigation, research and discovery, show the application of knowledge to the improvement of mankind, provide such buildings, laboratories, books and apparatus as may be needed, and afford instruction of an advanced character to students properly qualified to profit thereby. Unexpended income may be kept in a reserve fund to defray the cost of buildings.

By a two-thirds vote the trustees may modify these conditions in accordance with the original purpose, which is "to secure, if possible, for the United States of America leadership in the domain of discovery and the utilization of new forces for the benefit of man."

The board will meet again tomorrow.

Secretary Hay entertained at dinner tonight the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institution. President Roosevelt and Mr. Carnegie were present.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED.

Three Syrians Who Live in Pittsburgh Were Struck by Train Near Manor Yesterday.

IRWIN, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special)—Three Syrian peddlers, members of the colony that makes its headquarters in Bedford avenue, Pittsburgh, were struck by a light engine at the Manor curve at noon today and hurled over a 40-foot embankment to the sidewalk below.

One man was killed and the other two were probably fatally injured. The body of the dead man was turned over to the coroner, and the injured men were taken to the Westmoreland hospital at Greensburg. The names of the men could not be learned.

THE SENATORIAL DOGS OF WAR A LITTLE CALMER

Tillman Still Tugs at His Chains and Promises to Break Loose Today.

DISPUTE ON CENSORSHIP

Antis Still Insist It Exists in Philippines — Administration Statesmen Deny It and Quote the Highest Authorities in Proof Thereof.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—For an hour today the senate had under discussion the question whether a censorship of press dispatches exists in Manila. While no such turbulent scenes as yesterdays were enacted, the debate for a time was very spirited.

The secretary of war was quoted as saying that no press censorship now exists in the Philippines and a letter from General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, was presented by Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, making the statement officially that there was no censorship of press dispatches, and that "the press is entirely free."

It was contended by the opposition that a press censorship does exist in the Philippines, and that copies of every news dispatch filed with the cable company is filed with the military authorities. That, it was maintained, constitutes a virtual censorship.

Mr. Lodge insisted that consideration of the Philippine measure should be proceeded with and declined to yield the floor for Mr. Bacon to continue revolutionary war discussion. His declination irritated Mr. Tillman, who said:

"You can't gag us in your effort to free this Philippine bill. How does the senator get his own permission to be so invidious and so ungracious?"

Mr. Lodge disclaimed any intention of being ungracious.

Mr. Lodge was about to proceed when he was interrupted by Mr. Hoar, who said:

"The most emphatic argument against this whole Philippine business——"

"Is the healthy discussion of the patriotic impulses of our ancestors," interjected Mr. Tillman, taking the idea, perhaps, if not the words, out of the Massachusetts senator's mouth.

Later on Mr. Tillman said he desired to "draw a few draughts from the fount of liberty," but would postpone his remarks upon the historical subject which had been broached until tomorrow, when he would make them while the Philippine measure is under discussion.

As Mr. Cullom was about to move an executive session, Mr. Hoar suggested that the senate might now have "a little discussion of the character of Mary, Queen of Scots."

Mr. Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, delivered a carefully prepared speech on the history of the reciprocity negotiations.

JUDGE TAFT SEES ROOT.

He Tells the Secretary All About Conditions in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Judge Taft, civil governor of the Philippines, arrived here this afternoon from his home in Cincinnati. He was met by General Corbin and at once driven to the war department, where he was shown into the private office of Secretary Root, who was awaiting his arrival.

Secretary Root took Governor Taft to his house, where luncheon was served. Judge Taft will be the secretary's guest as long as he remains in Washington.

During the afternoon Governor Taft gave Secretary Root a verbal account of the condition of affairs in the Philippines at the time he left there, about six weeks ago, and briefly outlined the character of the legislation which, in his opinion, is necessary to meet the requirements of the situation and to develop the material resources of the islands.

SURPLUS STILL GROWS.

Almost $25,000,000 Greater Than at the Same Date Last Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—(Special)—The treasury surplus is steadily increasing and is larger by almost $25,000,000 than of the corresponding period of last year. The receipts from all sources, including today's $1,746,377 32, amount to $327,326,955 54, as against $234,110,457 for the same period of last year. The expenditures since July, 1901, including today's $1,275,000, amount to $278,455,688 47, as against $309,729,155 96 last year. This leaves a surplus today of receipts over disbursements of $48,874,267 07, as against $25,000,000 at the same period of the preceding year.

It is said at the treasury department that Mr. Shaw, the incoming secretary, intends to stop the purchase of bonds that were issued on account of the Spanish-American war.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Congressman Jack a Busy Man at the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Representative Jack has recommended the reappointment of S. M. Turk as postmaster at Kittanning, Pa.

Mr. Jack also recommended his appointment of Frank Mast as postmaster at Rimer, Armstrong county, and John E. Foss as postmaster at Carrier, Jefferson county.

Mr. Jack has been advised that the postoffice at Sidney, Indiana county, will be discontinued February 15, and the mail sent thereafter to McGees Mills.

The president today sent to the senate nominations of these postmasters: Pennsylvania—Harry Duncan, Cross Fork; William H. Brown, Linesville; Francis E. Harrison, Bidley Park; William E. Galbraith, Canonsburg. Ohio—George B. Frease, Canton; Philo S. Clark, Portsmouth; George E. Stoughton, Westerville; Selah S. Connell, West Carrollton. The nominations of these Pennsylvania postmasters were confirmed by the senate: D. C. Hogue, Watson town, and J. C. Koch, St. Marys.

OLEO FIGHT IN THE HOUSE.

Two Reports Submitted by the Committee on Agriculture in Charge.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—During the brief session of the house today Mr. Hopkins of Illinois reported the permanent census bill and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow. A request to make the oleomargarine bill a special order for next Monday was objected to on the Democratic side.

Reports of the majority and minority of the house committee on agriculture on the oleomargarine question were submitted. The majority favors a tax of 10 cents a pound on oleo colored in imitation of butter. The minority is composed of Chairman Wadsworth of New York; Connell, Pennsylvania; Scott, Kansas; Williams, Mississippi, and Allen, Kentucky. They argue that oleo is a nutritious food, and that the industry should not be destroyed. They present a bill preventing frauds in the retailing of oleo.

Pittsburgher Again Chosen.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 29.—The American Poultry association today elected Dr. F. D. Kendall of Columbia, S. C., president, and re-elected T. E. Orr of Pittsburgh secretary and treasurer. The last awards in the show were made today and the association adjourned tonight.

MAJORITY IGNORED BY SCHLEY APPEAL

DEVOTES ATTENTION ONLY TO DEWEY'S FINDINGS.

All the Points Made in Report of Admirals Ramsey and Benham Seem to Be Abandoned—Protest Insists Schley Was the Victor at Santiago.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Presidential recognition of his title to the credit for the victory of Santiago is asked for by Rear Admiral Schley in his brief to Mr. Roosevelt made public today. The fact that three-fourths of the brief is devoted to the question of command during that famous battle shows that it is the expectation of the rear admiral that the president will pass upon it.

Admiral Dewey awarded the credit of the victory to Rear Admiral Schley. The brief of the rear admiral is devoted to showing that Admiral Dewey was justified by the precept of the investigation and the evidence in rendering this opinion, and that Rear Admirals Ramsey and Benham "failed in the discharge of a most important duty in that they did not report their opinion upon the said question."

It is one of the remarkable features of the rear admiral's brief that he seeks to secure the approval by the president of only the individual findings of Admiral Dewey—that the flying squadron made the passage from Key West to Cienfuegos and from Cienfuegos to Santiago with all possible dispatch; that the blockade of Cienfuegos and Santiago was effective, and that Rear Admiral Schley was in absolute command during the Santiago battle and is entitled to the credit due to such commanding officer for the victory. The brief makes absolutely no reference to the retrograde movement; disobedience of orders; failure to destroy th Spanish ships as they lay in the mouth of Santiago harbor; incorrect and misleading official reports; injustice to Lieutenant Commander Hodgson, and that Commodore Schley was guilty of "vacillation, dilatoriness and lack of enterprise."

THE PENSION ROLL.

Veterans, Their Widows and Dependents Provided For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—The following pensions were granted today:

Haines, Upper Middletown, $8; Adam Couer, Pine Ridge, $12; Joseph P. Wheeler, Litchfield, $17; John P. Crabb, Harrisburg, $12; Samuel D. Bollinger, Orbisonia, $8; Sarah C. Toland, Conshocken, $8; Mary A. Laugerbacker, Pittsburgh, $8; Mary E. Heals, Urah, $8.

Ohio—Julius E. Douze, Canton, $8; Levi R. Lash, Bolivar, $10; Rachel E. Campbell, Martins Ferry, $8; Michael Donovan, Neffs, $6; Sarah C. Hickley, Salem, $8.

West Virginia—William W. Armbrester, Jones Springs, $12; Horace H. Redford, Cairo, $6; Louisa Woodruff, Martinsburg, $8; Ida M. Satterfield, Riversville, $12.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

George B. Frease was renominated postmaster at Canton, O. He is publisher of the Canton Repository.

Mr. Jack introduced in the house bills to correct the military records of M. Z. Hays of Kittanning and W. Scott Kind of New Kensington.

W. R. Holloway, United States consul general in St. Petersburg, reports that Siberia is rich in deposits of iron and that there is enough in sight to be mined for 200 years.

The senate foreign relations committee began discussion of the Danish West Indies treaty. The committee at its next meeting probably will agree to favorably report the treaty.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National bank of Swissvale, Pa., to begin business on $50,000 capital, and with the following officers: Nathaniel Green president, Ross W. Dunn cashier.

CUSHIONED PEWS KEEP POOR AWAY FROM CHURCH

A. Murray Imbrie Esq. Interjected Some Sensation Into a Debate Over Religious Work.

A. Murray Imbrie, Esq., last night declared that cushioned pews keep the poor away from church. This assertion was one of the features of the debate over institutional religious work at the meeting of the Church club of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh. The meeting was held in the parish house of Trinity church. After two hours discussion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the club that largely increased and more extended institutional and social settlement work be maintained and carried on in the congested parts of this great city and this club would press the matter earnestly on the attention of the bishop and clergy of the city.

The resolution was presented and discussed at length at a former meeting of the club. It embodies the sentiments of the spirited address delivered by the Rev. Dr. Alfred W. Arundel, rector of Trinity church, at the anniversary of Bishop Whitehead's consecration last Saturday.

Last night the discussion was very spirited at times. C. E. E. Childers championed the resolution. L. H. Wheeler and B. M. Sawyer made an effort to have it laid on the table or indefinitely postponed, as it originally stood. The text of the resolution, as introduced, left out the words "largely increased and more extended," and "and social settlement," and added at the end the phrase "assuring them at the same time the cordial support of the laymen of the city."

Robert A. Cornelius finally offered the amended resolution, which passed. Besides Messrs. Childers, Wheeler, Sawyer, Cornelius and Imbrie, H. M. Doubleday, S. C. McCandless and several others took part in the discussion. When the amended resolution was finally brought to vote it passed with only Mr. Wheeler's vote in opposition.

Mr. Imbrie also voiced strong opposition to the practice of church endowment. His views met with some opposition. Mr. Childers suggested his ideas for furthering work in the slums as the establishment of a sort of Mills hotel, with means of amusement, baths, gymnasium, etc., and a chapel for religious services. His idea was favorably received.

SCHLEY IN LOUISVILLE.

Reception Program Carried Out in a Heavy Storm.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 29.—Admiral Schley today moved through the heaviest sleet storm that Louisville has seen in many years, while following the program of an entertainment prepared for him by the board of trade.

In spite of the bad weather, more than 2,000 persons visited the board rooms this morning and shook the admiral's hand. Lunch at the Pendennis club followed, and tonight the admiral was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the board of trade. The 200 guests sat at five long tables. Gov. Beckham, Gen. T. C. Catchings, Henry Weissinger, A. E. Wilson and the admiral were the speakers.

Dark Hair

Do you want it? All that dark, rich color your hair used to have? Easy enough, so long as you can buy Ayer's Hair Vigor. It always restores color to gray hair. It stops falling of the hair, too, and sometimes makes it grow very long and heavy.

"I am over 50 years old. My hair is long and heavy, and of the dark, rich color of youth, thanks to Ayer's Hair Vigor."

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The Herald's European edition will publish tomorrow four interviews bound to attract universal attention. They have been obtained by a special correspondent with King Alexander of Servia, Queen Draga, Dr. Vonlich, the Servian minister of foreign affairs, and Dr. Milovanovitch, minister of agriculture.

The king received your correspondent in the palace at Belgrade and gave a denial to the rumors so industriously circulated by the Viennese press to the effect that his majesty was desirous of abdicating. He said:

Wilech Obrenevitch was fond of using Servian proverbs. There are three things a man should never abandon—his wife, power and a good horse. I heartily indorse the proverb.

You may declare on my behalf that all rumors concerning my abdication or that there exists any agitation in my country in reference to a successor to the throne are absolutely false and can only come from systematic enemies of my dynasty or from people whose brains are deranged. Such rumors are totally fantastic, just as probable as would be a report that I ate human flesh or that the people in the streets of Belgrade had wings.

Will Defend His Throne.

His majesty indignantly protested against the malevolent and indecent campaign conducted against him, in which the queen's name and personality had been used in a revolting manner. King Alexander wound up the interview by declaring:

Should my throne be menaced I will defend it sword in hand, at the head of my faithful army, acting in a manner befitting the grandson of the creator of new Servia.

After leaving the king your correspondent was received by Queen Draga. Her majesty's declaration was more personal and emotional. She said:

All reports which speak ill of our relations are abominable calumnies. I could not wish anything better to my dearest friends than that they should enjoy as through happiness in their married lives as we do. The king is an affectionate king. There is no cloud between us.

Dr. Vonich gave the clue to the coming campaign in a few words:

Wish to Be Left Alone.

When King Milan reigned Servia was governed in a manner so tyrannical that the press of Europe with one notable exception effet out against the condition of things which he brought about. That exception was the press of Austria. But today all that has changed. Radicals and Progressives have united as a fusionist party. A new and liberal representative government has been given to this country. We have now an upper and a lower house. Servia is being consolidated, politically and economically, and placed on a basis of future prosperity.

As for Dr. Milovanovitch, after describing in encouraging terms the present situation in Servia, he said:

All we Servians ask is to be left alone. If you see so much sympathies for us we are slavs—are pro-Russian; but we feel that Russia has larger interests elsewhere and has not time to pay any attention to our aspirations. Thus all we ask is to remain quiet, feeling sure that when the right time comes Russia will remember our good conduct.

PHILIPPINES TO BE SOLD.

Vienna Newspaper Publishes a Story to That Effect.

VIENNA, Jan. 29.—The Neues Wiener Tageblatt asserts that negotiations are in progress for the sale of the Philippine islands to Germany and that the visit of Admiral Prince Henry to the United States is preliminary to the announcement of this sale.

Court Beauty Dies a Pauper.

ODESSA, Jan. 29.—The Princess Rio de Rias, once a famous beauty at the court of Napoleon III., died in the poorhouse at Simferopol a few days ago. She was given a pauper's funeral.

SUSPECTS WERE RELEASED.

John Cleveland and John Clark, Charged With Theft of Valuable Diamond, Go Free.

John Cleveland and John Clark were discharged yesterday by Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna, at a hearing on a charge of larceny from the person, preferred by a well-known business man. He had been robbed of a diamond pin, valued at $350 while riding on a North Highland avenue street car, January 22.

It was asserted last night on good authority that the diamond was returned to the victim of the thieves and that he did not appear against them. Their discharge followed.

Both Clark and Cleveland were stopping at the Seventh Avenue hotel. There was a woman staying at the hotel with them. Both men were identified by the hotel clerk at the Central station as the guests of the hotel.

This mysterious woman played a prominent part in securing the release of the men. She prevailed upon a business man in the down town section of this city to aid her in securing their release.

This merchant secured an attorney and a compromise was agreed upon with the victim of the men. This attorney told Supt. Phillip Demmel that his client did not care to appear in court and testify in the case. Supt. Demmel said that this would be necessary, and reminded him that he had withdrawn the charge of suspicious persons against the men and made another charge of larceny from the person. It was learned from an authentic source that the diamond was in the intervening time returned.

When the men were arraigned at the hearing there was no one present to testify against them. The original charge had been withdrawn, and it could not be made against them again for the same offense. Otherwise the men could have been sentenced to the workhouse.

Both men left the city yesterday and went east. The woman went with them.

COURTS MUST SETTLE.

Secretary Griest Probably Will Decline to Pass Upon Ballot Point Raised by Guthrie.

HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Secretary Griest will hardly make a ruling on the question raised by George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh that ballots hereafter must not be numbered.

It is known that he and his officials take the position that the matter of the numbering of the ballots is one that must be settled by the courts, and that the department has nothing to do with it. The letter from the Allegheny county commissioners, asking for instructions before deciding whether or not the ballots shall be printed with provision for numbering, has not yet been received by Secretary Griest.

Big Coal Deal at Washington.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 29.—The largest coal sale ever made in Washington county has been closed up at this place. The sale will involve over 15,000 acres of coal land and will mean a cash transfer of over $500,000. The coal was obtained several months ago by a party of Pittsburgh capitalists.

Out for Political Office.

BEAVER, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Ex-Postmaster Andrew G. White, a corporal with the famous One Hundred and Fortieth Pennsylvania regiment during the civil war, has announced himself as candidate for county commissioner at the coming Republican primaries.

Somerset Wants Camp Site—Hydrophobia Attacks Stock

SOMERSET CITIZENS ARE IN FAVOR OF PURCHASE

WANT CAMP SITE THERE

They Realize the Many Advantages That Its Selection Would Mean.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOMERSET, PA., Jan. 29.—Citizens of Somerset resent the statements sent out in special dispatches from Johnstown that the people of Somerset, as a majority, are opposed to the selection of that locality as the site for one of the proposed military camps of instruction to be purchased by the United States government, and in this connection the Somerset Standard says to-day:

That Somerset is not entirely free from that bane of every town, the chronic objector, must be admitted, but the people of Somerset are expecting and hoping that its site may be selected for a military camp by the government.

Its many advantages foramilitary camp were fully recognised by both the rank and file of the State Guard while in camp here last summer, as they have been by the officials sent here by the United States government to investigate them.

The statement that "Somerset was never seriously considered as a site for the camp" is merely the babble of those who do not know what they are talking about. The commission appointed by the war department to select four sites for camps will make and announce their selections the latter part of this month, or early in February, and then we shall know more about it; but a gentleman who has been in close touch with the commission assures us that Somerset's chances are as good if not better than the best.

W. A. Scott, Jr., president of the Somerset Land Company, the syndicate which is offering the site to the government, stated yesterday that the people interested in the Mt. Gretna site in the eastern part of the state are making every effort to have the advantages of that locality impressed upon the public to the exclusion of all other sites, and that the people in that section are fully alive to the fact that the selection of a site in that part of the state means the expenditure of a vast sum of money in the preparation of the grounds, buildings, etc., to say nothing of the money to be spent for the daily supplies.

"Should Somerset be selected," he added, "these large sums would be expended and put in circulation in this part of the state, the bulk of it going to Pittsburgh."

The board of army officers is expected to reconvene next Monday in Washington, but it is not probable that the report will be made to the secretary of war for some time, as there are many facts in connection with the selection of the camps which will require careful consideration.

OWNER INSPECT RAILROAD.

Claimed That Prospective Purchasers of West Virginia Central Accompanied Senator Davis.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Ex-Senator Davis and M. C. Kerens, the latter of St. Louis, at present the principal owners of the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railroad, arrived this afternoon from the east in the former's private car and went up over their road. Another private car containing, it is presumed, representatives of the alleged purchasers of the road, was transferred from the Baltimore & Ohio to the West Virginia Central at a point below Cumberland station.

The officials had nothing to say relative to the purchase of their road other than that those who were trying to buy the property had posted a forfeit. Engineers, sent out by the latter, are surveying a route from Cumberland to Baltimore.

LITTLE TIME FOR ESCAPE.

Milton Sheets, Who Got Away from Penitentiary Once, Must Hang March 11.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 29.—March 11 has been fixed as the date for the execution of Milton Sheets, who is now in jail. Sheets was convicted in December, 1899, of murdering Augustus Giesser at Berlin, and was sentenced to be hanged on March 9, 1900.

Before the day of execution Sheets escaped from prison and was captured last week at Athens, O., where he was known as Harry Bell, a bartender.

COKE OVENS WILL LEAVE CONNELLSVILLE

Cambria Steel Company Will Greatly Enlarge Its Plant at Johnstown.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Jan. 29.—Johnstown stockholders in the Cambria Steel Company are highly enthusiastic over the receipt of the annual report of President Powell Stackhouse just received here. The report says that the company's coking plant in Johnstown is to be enlarged, owing to the fact that it will cease to make coke at Connellsville after this year.

President Stackhouse says that it is estimated that 200 Otto-Hoffman by-product ovens will have to be erected in Johnstown to replace the plant at Connellsville. He also says that the addition of another large blast furnace will be necessary to fully supply the steel making capacity of the works here.

These improvements, with the new open-hearth plant, six 50-ton furnaces; a 134-inch plate mill; a large steel car plant recently put in full operation, and the assurance of President Stackhouse that the car plant is to be enlarged, means a great boom for Johnstown, which is now very rapidly climbing to a population of 75,000.

NEW OIL COMPANY FORMED.

New Castle Men Will Drill Through Lawrence County—A Thousand Acres Already Leased.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The Sevannah Oil and Gas Company has just been formed by New Castle men, who will drill extensively through this county for both oil and gas. If the latter is struck they intend to pipe it to this city and supply the public works and private consumers.

The application for a charter will at once be made. All the capital interested is local. The officers of the company are: President, Charles Rigby; vice president, Albert Hill; secretary and treasurer, T. J. Kelly; directors, Frank O. Dunlap, Harry Smith, E. A. Jones, Patrick Henry and Walter Fleming. The company already has more than 1,000 acres of land leased and drilling operations will be begun as soon as the rigs can be secured and placed in position.

SCHOOLS OVERCROWDED.

Charleroi Directors Forced to Give Up Their Board Room and Secure Another Teacher.

CHARLEROI, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The overcrowded condition of the Charleroi public schools has been proven so conclusively that the board has decided to open an additional school and secure another teacher. Miss Carrie E. Wilson has been elected as the new teacher and this morning took charge of room No. 4 in school No. 2.

Miss Wilson is one of the pioneer teachers of the Charleroi school and is very well known. In order to make room for the new school the directors' room in school No. 2 has been arranged for temporary school purposes.

THROWN FROM A SLEIGH.

Irwin Boy Seriously Hurt While Driving a High-Spirited Horse. Mother Escapes injury.

IRWIN, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—While Mrs. John Bruno and son John of Irwin were on their way to Harrison City this afternoon in a sleigh, behind a high-spirited horse, the animal took fright and ran away. The sleigh was demolished.

Mrs. Bruno escaped without injury, but her son was thrown violently against a telegraph pole, striking his head, and was rendered unconscious. He was picked up and brought to Irwin, where he received medical attention. The boy is badly hurt.

Charters Granted Yesterday.

HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 29.—Charters were issued today as follows: Croton Lamestone and Brick Company, New Castle, capital $30,000; Halcyon Electric Light and Power Company, South Bethlehem, capital $1,000; The Calwallader Tinplate and Metal Company, Pittsburgh, capital $50,000; Ontwood Hotel Company, Mount Pocono, capital $35,000; Dunbar Water Company, Dunbar, capital, $1,000.

Serious Explosion at Wellston.

WELLSTON, O., Jan. 29.—By an explosion resulting from a "slip" in a blast furnace at the Wellston Iron and Steel plant today, Charles Gee and Charles Atwood were severely injured, Gee probably fatally.

EPIDEMIC OF RABIES IN STOCK ALARMS FARMERS

MAD DOG WAS THE CAUSE

The Animal Was Killed, but the Disease Is Still Spreading.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 29.—The farmers of Slippery Rock township are losing hundreds of dollars' worth of stock, as the result of a wholesale attack upon live stock by a mad dog. The animal was killed only after many hogs and cattle had been attacked.

The head of the dog was sent by Coroner E. C. Porter to the state veterinary surgeon at Philadelphia, and Mr. Porter has just received word from that official that the canine undoubtedly had the genuine rabies.

The animals bitten by the mad dog are now developing hydrophobia and three hogs belonging to Lee S. Brandon, a well-known farmer of Slippery Rock township, began frothing at the mouth and showing every symptom of the rabies. They made a desperate attack upon their owner, when he walked through the place where they were confined, but he managed to get away unharmed. They were immediately killed.

Other farmers have been having similar misfortunes with their stock and the people of that vicinity are panic-stricken over the state of affairs, as they do not know what moment they may be attacked by some animal which has been infected with the disease.

FUSION TICKET DISCARDED.

Democrats of Mercer Refuse to Join Hands With Republicans and Nominate Own Candidates.

MERCER, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Democrats of Mercer a proposition made to them by the Republicans to form a fusion ticket was discarded and the following candidates nominated: Council, C. G. Byers, William Taylor, Arthur Seaton, Sr.; school director, A. R. Levemore, J. J. J. Alexander; constable, J. E. Adams; high constable, William Wingards; auditor, Charles T. Byers.

COAL CENTER, PA., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The result of the Democratic primaries last night was as follows: For judge, Augustus Henry; inspector, Ernest Bradford; auditor, J. J. Floyd; justice of the peace, W. H. Gregg; council, B. M. Cree, Dr. George B. Frantz, J. W. Burtnett and D. P. Gulser, Sr.; school directors, W. H. Gregg, L. W. Reeves; constable, John A. Parshall; borough constable, Lee Van Breman.

GREENSBURG, PA., Jan. 29.—The Republican conferees of the various wards of this town have agreed on the following candidates to be voted for at the February election: Borough treasurer, H. H. Murdock; auditors, Christopher Cribbs, Gill Watt and E. E. Sweeney; high constable, Washington Hazlett; councilmen, S. C. Stevenson, First ward; John M. Haws, Second ward; P. K. Shaner, Third ward; Thomas Wible, Fourth ward; J. F. Goodlin, Fifth ward; school directors, S. F. Porter, First ward; J. S. Beacom, Second ward; T. M. Hamen, Third ward; Jefferson Taylor, Fourth ward; W. D. Wolf, Fifth ward.

DUNBAR, PA., Jan. 29.—The Republicans of Dunbar borough held their primary election yesterday afternoon. The election was one of the hottest in the history of the borough. Two tickets were placed in the field, one in favor of town improvement and the other against. The former won a vote of 3 to 1. The following ticket was nominated: Justice of the peace, D. K. Cameron; constable, H. C. Duncan; school directors, Andrew Wishart, Sr., John B. Stroud; councilmen, William Dull, D. M. Jacobs, Elsy Parker, George Martin, John Leckonby; tax collector, W. H. Williams; auditor, J. J. Kerr.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 29.—The Democrats of Washington at their primaries here tonight nominated the following candidates for borough offices: Treasurer, Robert Foster; curator of library, Samuel Amspoker; auditor, H. J. Gilmore; council, Jacob Cline, William Lytle, A. B. Webb, Dr. George M. Kelly; school directors, I. H. Taylor, John McGuffie, L. F. Driehorst, Dr. J. B. Irwin, J. F. Berthel, A. F. Montgomery, Joseph McFarland, L. S. Vowel, Edward L. Foster, Alexander Hart, T. J. Duncan, W. C. Cameron; constables, William Margerum, George W. Clutter, Mack Smith and James S. Hammond. A full vote was cast.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

B. & B.

1902 semi-annual remnant day

friday—tomorrow

We never make Remnant Day until we're ready—until we get the stocks all sold down to where we want them—and then it's done effectively.

Remnants and Odd Lots all over the house—upstairs and down—so priced that everything sells on sight.

Never make Remnant Day on any other day than Friday.

Years ago—over thirty—as our business grew, we found Remnants accumulated. We also found out then that Friday was the dull day of the week.

We therefore, that long ago, originated and established Semi-Annual Remnant Day and have kept it up ever since.

Another fact in regard to our Semi-Annual Remnant Day is that each successive year it has been larger and more important than its predecessor—and that's the kind of a Remnant Day this one is to be—Friday.

How it's done, here:—everything is carefully measured—yards and price marked on each Remnant in plain figures with red ink, so that all can practically wait on themselves.

Every Remnant, whether it's Silk, Suiting, Broadcloth, Embroidery, Lace, Ribbon or Toweling Crash, is so measured and marked.

Not only Remnants, but all Skirt and Suit Lengths are measured up, lowest-cost to richest goods, Black or Colored, and all marked with RED INK Remnant Day prices—that makes the Skirt and Suit Length end of the Remnant Day business of great importance to all who come, and this time it will be more so than ever, both from a price standpoint, and quantity to be sold.

silks

—Remnants first and foremost—that's what the Sale is for, to sacrifice Remnants so they'll all be sold—and that will be done.

Second, as to Silks, come the Waist, Skirt and Dress Lengths—the extent of these, the character thereof and the prices women will get them at will eclipse all prices, and therefore selling, the Silk Dep't has ever known any Remnant Day.

Lot of All Silk Plain Black Grenadines, 23 inches wide, 25c.

Table of Silks at 35c—so good, so great a variety, including Fancies, Bengalines and Plain Colored Taffetas, as will pay buyers to get to this table early.

Waist lengths of Fancy Silks, also Waist, Petticoat and Lining lengths of Colored and Black Taffetas, Waist and Dress lengths of Colored and Black Crepe de Chene and Foulards—to get these at Remnant Day prices, as you will, will be appreciated.

Every Silk length—Blacks, Colors, Evening and Foulards, up to 15 yards—is measured up and in the Sale.

NOTICE—All Black Silk Remnants, Waist, Petticoat and Dress Lengths will be sold in the Velvet aisle in order to get more Silk room for the day.

remnants silk and panne velvets

Corduroys, Velveteens—and a lot of them—colors and black—from a quarter of a yard, up—priced so they will be bought prompt.

dress goods and suitings

—Remnants, Skirt and Suit lengths—every end, from shortest length up to dress lengths of 7 yards in 56-inch Suitings, and 9 yards in dressy kinds, measured up and "red inked" so they'll be bought as never before—as this Remnant Day is to surpass any and all others, and goods and prices to do it.

Lot double width 34-inch American Dress Goods—blue, grey and brown mixtures—medium light colors—straight 6c yard.

Large assorted lot dark 25c double width Dress Goods, 10c.

Odd lots Plaids at three prices—6c, 15c and 25c—that are remarkable.

remnants black goods

Never in the store's history did it do anything like last year's business—hence more Black Remnants than ever—and they'll be priced so they'll all move.

Black Skirt and Suit lengths of Chevilottes, Undressed Worsteds, Drapes, Venetians and Broadcloths—and last but not least, Skirt and Dress lengths of Paris dressy Black Goods that were $1.00 to $4.50 a yard, neat to elaborate styles, will be so marked as to afford great opportunity to get dressy skirts or gowns and save a lot of dollars.

Note two lots Black Goods—sacrifice prices:

Table of All Wool Fancy Black Goods 42 inches wide, 25c—neat styles and splendid quality.

For skirts and home dresses this lot of wide Black Goods at a quarter has nor never had any parallel.

Table of American Black Fancy Dress Goods, ¾ wool, 40 inches wide, 15c.

Remnants and Skirt Lengths Plaid Back, Check and Reversible Golf Cape Cloths and Skirt materials—prices that will show a great saving.

Short Skirt materials 56 inches wide, 50c, 75c and $1.00, that will make a large Remnant Day business.

Local News of All Pittsburgh

Fifth in Volume of Bank Clearings. Fourth in Rank Among Cities.

Contagious Diseases—Five cases of typhoid fever, one of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Was Killed by a Train—Stephen Szabo of No. 89 Irvine street was killed by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near Laughlin station while he was walking on the track.

Injured in Collision—Two street cars collided at Fifth avenue and Craig street at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Miss Clara Rinehold of 230 Edmonds street was painfully injured.

Family Was Driven Out—A small fire in the cellar of the house of Frank A. Cooper, Railroad avenue, Oakmont, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, drove the family out in their night clothes. The loss was very little.

Two More Suspects Freed—John Clark and John Cleveland, arrested a week ago on suspicion of being pickpockets, were discharged yesterday, the police claiming that they cannot get evidence enough to convict them.

Alleged Inhuman Bits—Humane Agent J. N. Kidney took from the horses of H. R. Rea, No. 845 Ridge avenue, Allegheny, a pair of the bur bits which are alleged by the humane officers to be torture to the animals.

Was Found in Bad Shape—A man who refused to tell anything that would indicate his identity was found with a broken leg and nearly frozen at Second and Greenfield avenues yesterday morning. He was taken to the Mercy hospital.

Taylor's Deplorable Manners—Noah Taylor of Webster was held for court yesterday by Magistrate McMasters. It is alleged that Taylor kicked in the door of No. 1416 Penn avenue about midnight and then beat the policeman who responded to the cries of the frightened Italians.

Troubles Were Too Great—Josiah Riley, 63 years of age, a watchman at the Crescent steel plant, and residing at No. 201 Forty-second street, cut his throat because the pater pipes in his house froze. He was taken to the West Penn hospital, where his wound was sewed up. It was stated last night that he would live.

Killed by Fall of Ore—John Stevo, aged 28, who had been in this country but a week and in McKeesport three days was killed there early yesterday morning. Stevo secured a position at the Monongahela furnace, wheeling ore and went to work Tuesday night. He had just been working three hours when he was caught in a fall of ore, and almost instantly killed. He leaves a wife and one child in the old country.

Was Fatally Injured—John Rhoads, a caller for the West Penn railroad, was fatally injured at the Sandusky street crossing in Allegheny at 7 o'clock last evening. He was on his way at the time to call some men who live in that vicinity. He was taken to the West Penn hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured and his chest crushed. He died at 9 o'clock. Rhoads was 31 years of age, married, and lived at No. 428 Lacock street, Allegheny.

Contributions Were Large—The Women's Foreign Missionary association of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church. The treasurer reported that the association had contributed $3,376 during the last quarter and since last April $6,032. The annual thank offering was taken, and before the meeting was adjourned it was announced that $1,099 18 had been received. This is the largest offering received in many years.

Charged With Robbery—Charles Bastin of 65 McClure avenue and George Ogden of 48 Sterling street, Allegheny, were held for court yesterday by Magistrate Henneshagen of Allegheny on a charge of highway robbery, preferred by Andrew Ondik of 3224 Payne street, Allegheny. He alleges that on the night of January 24 the two men knocked him down and robbed him of $4. Bastin was accused by Steven Bucklitch last August before Alderman Lynch of the same offense, but had not been arrested because Bucklitch had disappeared.

Cleary is Suspected—James Cleary of St. Louis was locked up in the Central police station last night on suspicion of having been one of two men who shortly before held up Mike Demksey of McKeesport and robbed him of $10. Officer A. Mellett saw Demksey struggling with two men, but he was a considerable distance away. When he drew near the men departed, leaving Demksey. When the latter was able to make himself understood the policeman caught sight of Cleary on a car and immediately placed him under arrest. Demksey was sent to the police station to appear against him this morning.

Live Wires Torn Down—Much excitement was created about 9 o'clock last night in the neighborhood of Third avenue and Market street by the trolley of a street car tearing down the wire of the Allegheny County Light Company from Third avenue up Market street to Fourth avenue and down Fourth avenue to Ferry street. The dislodged wire instantly became red hot and danced about the street, scaring pedestrians, who ran for their lives. Police Capt. John Cramer telephoned the light company, who cut off all the lights from Wood street down to the point for nearly an hour, while the broken wire was being repaired.

Humane Society Met—At the regular weekly meeting of the Humane society yesterday four new agents of the society were appointed. They are William G. Ewing for Wilkinsburg, J. C. Hostetter for Meyersdale, Joseph McGuire for Apollo and John R. Tallman for Tidoulte. The following donations were reported: A. W. Mellon, $50; Master Horse Shoers' association, $25; Booth & Flinn, $20; Frank A. McCune, $10; C. Magee, Jr., $10; Randolph & McClements, $10; D. V. Kennedy, $10; R. S. Smith, $5; Miss Belle E. Carothers, $5; Miss Mary E. Sayres, $1; fine from Canonsburg, $10. Mrs. Stewart Brenneman was elected a member of the society.

McKinley Day at Wilkinsburg—Citizens of Wilkinsburg to the number of 500 commemorated the birth of William McKinley with a memorial service in the First United Presbyterian church last night. Burgess James Horner presided, and addresses were delivered by S. B. Donaldson, James Balph and the Rev. C. W. Smith. Miss Julia A. Bowerson sang a solo. The services were interspersed with the singing of the favorite hymns of the late president by special dispensation of the session of the church, it being contrary to the discipline of that denomination to permit the singing of hymns in houses of worship. A liberal donation was taken up to aid in the erection of a suitable monument.

A Child's Story—Agent Samuel O'Brien of the Humane society went to Elliott borough yesterday and brought back with him a 12-year-old boy who was placed in the Newsboys' home. The boy's home is in Greentree borough, where he lived with M. Patterson. Complaints were received from Elliott that the boy had been about the place for the past two weeks, sleeping where he could and living on the charity of citizens. He was in a terrible condition, being poorly clothed and so covered with vermin that it was necessary to shave his head and burn his clothes. The boy claims that Patterson is not his father, both his parents being dead, but that he had lived with him until driven from his home by abuse. Agent O'Brien made information against Patterson before Justice U. Stewart of Elliott, charging him with cruelty and neglect of a minor, and the case will be investigated.

Westmoreland Took Him—Martin Kajinsky, an Austrian aged 72 years, and a coal miner, who for the past two years has been an inmate of the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor on Washington street, Allegheny, was yesterday removed to the Westmoreland county home, near Greensburg, by the poor authorities of Westmoreland county. For years he worked in the coal mines of the Hostetter Coal Company at Whitney, near Latrobe, and after his wife died he was employed until two years ago as janitor in the Whitney Roman Catholic church, at which time he became ill and was brought to the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor. His mind has become much afflicted and the authorities at the institution asked the Allegheny department of charities to send him to the city home. As he belonged to Westmoreland county he was turned over to the poor authorities of that county.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE.

Pittsburgh District Coal Operators Go to Indianapolis Prepared to Fight on Mine-Run System.

Pittsburgh district coal operators left last night for Indianapolis to attend the conference of miners and operators to arrange the new wage scale, dating from April 1. The Pittsburgh district operators will make a determined fight against the mine-run system proposed by the miners, as destroying the lump quantity of the coal which feature now holds for them markets that they would otherwise have to surrender.

In the party leaving last night were O. A. Blackburn, superintendent of mines, and Capt. William B. Rodgers of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company; General Superintendent George W. Schleuderberg and Superintendents Walter J. Phillips, A. J. McDonald, John Britt and Walter Calvary of the Pittsburgh Coal Company; George Magoon of the Ella Coal Company, and James Shields and John Blythe, individual operators. F. L. Robbins, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, will join the party at Indianapolis.

John H. Jones, head of the Jones coal interests, and George Tener of the Midland Coal Company, are expected to leave for the convention in a few days. The operators expect the miners to be ready to enter the joint conference on Friday or Saturday. Meantime all operating interests will have a separate conference to outline a joint policy in reaching a dage settlement.

HEARING POSTPONED.

Officers of Union Were Ready to Answer the Charges.

Frank E. Smith, the retiring secretary of the Building Trades council; Thomas Mitchell, business agent of the painters, and Peter F. Mulvehill, business agent of the slate and tile roofers, appeared before Alderman S. F. Kerr yesterday to answer to charges of conspiracy made by suspended members of the Painters' union in connection with the Union station strike.

The hearing was postponed till next Wednesday evening. P. W. Gallagher and the other plaintiffs are alleged to have made proposals through their attorney for a settlement.

HANDY HUSBAND.

Knew How to Get Part of the Breakfast, Anyhow.

"I know one dish I can prepare for breakfast as well as any cook on earth,' said my husband one day when the cook was ill and he had volunteered to help get breakfast. He appeared with his dish and I discovered it was Grape-Nuts, which, of course, was easy to prepare, for it was perfectly cooked at the factory, but it was a good illustration of the convenience of having Grape-Nuts about.

"We just added a little cream, and, of course, had a delicious bit of food. We took up Grape-Nuts immediately after returning from a five years' sojourn in a hot country and our stomachs were in bad condition and we were in bad health generally.

"When we first tried it I confess we thought there were other and better things to eat and were told we must acquire a taste for this new food. Sure enough, in a day or two we liked Grape-Nuts better than any other kind of food on the table. We both gained steadily in health and strength, and this was caused by Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee.

"A friend of ours had a similar experience. She was seriously ill with indigestion and could find nothing to eat that would not give her heartburn and palpitation, especially at night.

"She found that a small dish of Grape-Nuts with cream made her a satisfactory supper and gave her a comfortable night's rest. In a short time she has gained several pounds in weight." The writer lives in Topeka, Kan. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Wilmerding Accident.

Last evening's street car accident at Wilmerding is one of the most remarkable and disastrous in local annals. Weather conditions undoubtedly were primarily responsible for the unfortunate result, but to what extent carelessness or neglect contributed does not yet appear. There are safety devices and appliances for use on such dangerous stretches of track as the street car line on the hill leading to the Wilmerding station. When two cars, one following the other with an interval of 12 minutes between, escape from the control of the motormen, there is room for the suspicion that no extra precautions had been taken against the extra-hazardous conditions prevailing. It cannot be said that the street car management was taken unaware, for bad conditions have prevailed, as is to be expected at this season of the year, against which every precaution should have been and possibly was resorted to. All this will, however, be fully developed if not in the coronial investigation, then in the prosecution of the damage suits that are sure to follow. Several persons are dead, many are injured and a number of the injured may die. The bill for damages will be a big one, large enough to impress on the company that it is cheaper in the long run to spend money to make things safe than to take chances on the crushing out of human lives and the maiming and crippling of human bodies, which must all be paid for, though money payment is at best poor compensation.

In Memory of McKinley.

The country was reminded by varied public exercises in the schools and elsewhere yesterday of the loss of William McKinley. The day was set apart in several states, Pennsylvania included, as "McKinley day," and the memorial services, while simple, served to awaken afresh the affection of the people for that great and good man. In the years to come the American people will recall the memory of William McKinley with feelings of veneration and love. As time goes on his virtues and achievements will shine more luminous on the pages of American history. The good he did was not interred with his bones, but remains a vital force in the life of our great republic.

Holland's Peace Proposals.

Naturally Holland, of all the European countries, would be most eager to see some adjustment of England's South African war problems that would end the conflict and leave the Boers in a measure free to work out their own destiny in the Transvaal. It was to Holland that President Kruger fled when forced to become an exile from South Africa. By ties of blood the Hollanders and the Boers are one family, and it is not surprising to learn that preliminary proposals have come from The Hague looking to some settlement of the Transvaal war. There has not been a time since hostilities were begun in South Africa when Holland was not eager to see some authoritative action taken by the powers looking to the arbitration of the question at issue. But England has persistently refused to lend an ear to any peace proposals from other nations. It is quite possible that Holland, seeing the likelihood of such proposals being made by the stronger governments growing less and less, has plucked up courage to make the effort alone.

The report says, diplomatically, that the offers are only preliminary. From England's steadfast course during the past two or three years there is reason to fear that Holland's efforts at peace will remain largely in the preliminary stage, though by every right of affection and kinship, as well as in the interests of humanity and civilization, the Dutch have a strong claim upon England's sympathy and attention in their effort to end the cruel war in South Africa.

Light on National Prosperity.

The report of the United States Steel Corporation for the first ten months of its existence is a gratifying exhibit of the prosperity of the whole country. When the orders on the books of the constituent members of so great a concern are equal to the capacity of the whole for six months to come it is proof of the general health of business. In some lines, of course, there is a stronger demand than in others. In the steel rail department, for example, orders are booked that will keep the plants working at their full capacity until near the end of the year. It is, therefore, true that some of the plants are booked for periods inside of six months, but the average of the orders of all kinds will keep the wheels of industry going at top speed for half the year. There is, with this, pressure on the part of consumers for quicker delivery and higher prices are offered as an incentive. This indicates the strength of the demand and points to an indefinite prolongation of the prosperous conditions. The situation would seem to justify or at least excuse an advance in prices, but the policy of the United States Steel Corporation is against anything of the kind, for the reason that an advance would be certain to check the demand. This would be robbing the future, in the opinion of the men who control the policy of the big concern, and they prefer to gather the golden eggs one at a time in a regular way, rather than take chances on shutting off the supply by over-anxiousness for them. The showing is a very satisfactory one from the standpoint of the public as well as the stockholders.

The Technical School.

The trustees of the Carnegie institution at Washington take hold of their work with a zeal and vigor that should be an inspiration to the city officials of Pittsburgh, whose co-operation with the trustees of the Pittsburgh Carnegie institute halts and lags at the fulfillment of Mr. Carnegie's wish to found a technical school in Pittsburgh. A site pleasing to Mr. Carnegie is within reach, but in turning their faces toward a dream the city authorities are turning their backs upon the educational enterprise within the grasp of our people and needed for the training of youths who are growing older at the rate of 24 hours a day. It is time to about face and take definite action to give effect to Mr. Carnegie's intentions for the benefit of Pittsburgh. At the present rate of progress those who should have the advantages of the proposed technical school may see their hopes realized for the betterment of posterity, but Mr. Carnegie desires to begin with the rising generation.

Compulsory Vaccination.

The health officers of Pittsburgh are taking the bull by the horns in making nightly visits to crowded lodging houses and compelling the inmates to submit to vaccination. The fact that nearly all the smallpox cases which have developed in this city originated among patrons or intending patrons of such places is justification of the heroic methods adopted by the health bureau. The risk of contamination is so apparent that the people realize that the danger of one is the concern of all. One case of smallpox in each of these cheap lodging houses might soon change all of them into pestholes, and the health officers are not only doing their duty, but doing the community a great service as well, in acting on the principle that an ounce of vaccine virus, properly applied, is better than many pounds of smallpox cure. Such action will be regarded by some as an arbitrary exercise of power, but physical, social and business interests demand it. Vaccination will keep Pittsburgh free from an epidemic of smallpox, and that is the object in view when it is made compulsory.

Bureau of Commerce and Labor.

A department of commerce was an inevitable addition to the cabinet bureaus of the government. The immense commercial and industrial interests of the country demand some special executive and official supervision. Now that the senate has approved a bill creating such a department the question as to a right distribution of interests so as to form a practical working department of government without making it too bulky or combining incongruous elements is one of supreme importance. In outlining the character of the new bureau the senate bill does not answer successfully this problem, and it is more than likely that there will be several eliminations and amendments to the bill before it reaches the president. The main point just now is, however, that such a bill is started on its way and that the immense business interests of the country are to be given federal supervision in such a way as to promote and encourage their still further development. Every disposition of the government toward a business administration of large public affairs is to be heartily commended. To this end the new department should and doubtless will be formed to serve practical, business ends rather than to provide further enlargement of political possibilities.

The Danish West Indies.

The natives of the Danish West India islands are willing to a man to be annexed. The leaders among them have made a rough canvass and so far as the results of the plebiscite can be ascertained, not one in a hundred has any other feeling toward the United States than that of admiration for its laws and institutions and confidence in the industrial possibilities which anexation lays open to them. But it would not be surprising if a section of the population of St. Thomas made a protest to Denmark against the disposition of the islands which has now been made. The Danish government was wisely paternal in its administration. It had established perfect political, religious and social equality in its small insular colonies and it was with a reluctance that king and country consented to their sale. But now that the bargain has been struck everyone, Danes and West Indians, should feel glad that the islands are politically moored to the nation and the continent to which they geographically and naturally belong.

A literary society has been formed in Indianapolis, one of the objects of which is to encourage pure and classical English in every-day use. It is particularly anxious that the great popular educator of the day, the newspaper, should be above suspicion in the grammatical use of the vernacular. This is all very well. The newspaper is not immaculate as a literary production. It has its shortcomings and no one recognizes it more fully than the newspaper writers themselves. But slovenly English is not as a general rule characteristic of the modern newspaper. Taking into consideration its immense volume, the haste with which it is compiled, perhaps no kind of current literature is so free from glaring blemishes, literary solecisms or ungrammatical construction. There are some exceptions, but these only bring out more characteristically the purity of style of the average morning or evening paper.

Right-minded people everywhere will approve of the efforts now being made by the people of Nebraska to divest themselves of the title of "Bugeaters." This touching designation was bestowed upon Nebraskans by a rank outsider back in the seventies, at a time when the grasshoppers were abroad in the land. An observant traveler saw nothing but grasshoppers in the state, and as there seemed to be nothing else left for the Nebraskans to eat he pretended to believe they would dine and sup on the only thing edible in sight and so as he went his way he called the people Bugeaters. The name stuck. Bad names usually stick. As the Nebraskans did not eat bugs then and do not eat bugs now, there is no reason why the motion to cease calling them Bugeaters should not be seconded and carried unanimously.

Electricity for Tuberculosis.

From the New York Herald.

The tuberculosis bacillus must be a hardy specimen, to judge from the statements cabled from London. An eminent surgeon is experimenting with a special form of electrical treatment for tuberculosis patients in which he uses a current of 80,000 volts. Good results have been obtained, but it remains to be seen whether they are permanent. After being pounded with an 80,000-volt current it seems to be a question whether the bacillus is killed or merely stunned.

The Difference.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

The difference between the visit of Prince Henry to this country and the sending of American envoys to King Edward's coronation is that the former comes as the guest of the nation, while the latter goes as the nation's representatives. The expenses of both functions should be defrayed by our government.

New York Citizens Aroused to Danger of Explosives

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.

It is safe to say that New York never had a more thrilling sensation of perpetual peril than is experienced by it just now. Developments as to the storing of dynamite promiscuously in great quantities under our very noses show that we are in danger every moment of being blown to nothingness. Moses Epps, the colored guardian of the powder shanty in Park avenue, in front it the Murray Hill Hotel, which blew up on Monday, testified today that the shed contained 600 sticks of dynamite, weighing in the aggregate 600 pounds. The Wonder is that, when it let go, it did not blow the big hotel clear out of the ground. Public attention, turned toward the blasting operations in the rapid transit, has evoked the knowledge that it is customary for contractors to carry as much as 600 pounds of dynamite in a jolting wagon at one time, passing through populous streets, and threatening scores of human lives as part if the regular daily routine. Dynamite is stored in innocent looking shacks along the avenues, and the stuff is tossed out by laborers who have acquired that familiarity with it which breeds contempt of its dangerous possibilities. While the municipal officials whose duty it is to inquire as to the responsibility for the disaster will not say anything for publication, it is not denied that ever since operations began on the rapid transit tunnel, New Yorkers have been in imminent danger daily. The few premature blasts that took place before this big explosion killed only a few workmen. Casualties of that kind are expected in the course of every extensive public enterprise and little was thought of them. The catastrophe of Monday last had a different consequence, and it is hoped that there will be less danger from dynamite for the remainder of the time that the tunnel is in course of construction. From all that can be seen today, it does not seem likely that anyone can be punished for negligence or other misbehavior causing the accident. Those who might have been culpable are dead. The principal purpose of the investigation now under way is to guard against a repetition of the horror.

Many Devices to Make Tunnels Safe.

Many suggestions for making the New York Central railroad tunnel in Park avenue safe come forward every day. Electricians, attracted by the report that the railroad company would pay $300,000 for a system that would be safe, have offered inventions of many kinds, nearly all of which have some conspicuous merit, while others appear at a cursory glance to be flawless. The company has not adopted any of them yet, but is understood to be considering those that appeal to it. Stewart S. Ness, who installed electricity in the Boston tunnel, testified today before the state railroad commission that the Boston tunnel had an automatic signal service which made rear-end collisions impossible. This fact —if it is a fact—is as interesting to Pittsburghers as to New Yorkers. The signal is so set that when anything goes wrong with the road a danger signal is instantly set. A small arm is raised between the tracks, which connects with a signal in the cab, and also sets the airbrakes and brings the train to a standstill. That looks good, and the railroad company may keep it in mind.

Comedy at the Coroner's Office.

The coroner's office is affording the comic relief in the tragedy of the tunnel explosion. What with the coroner's clerk and the district attorney indulging in fisticuffs, and the coroner quarreling with his jurymen, there is plenty of excitement around this grim department of the county government. Some of the business men on the jury declared pointedly this afternoon, while the coroner was keeping them dancing attendance on his pleasure that he could "go to the devil." He was not sure whether this was contempt of court, lese majeste or simple blasphemy, or he might have punished the recalcitrants. As it was, he froze them with a haughty stare and let it go at that.

Jim Keene Still in the Fray.

Wall street has got over its scare about James R. Keene. The financier was at his office today, and so far as could be seen was in his usual health. It is not easy to kill an old war horse like Jim Keene.

No Letting Up on Jerome.

Jerome, New York's belligerent district attorney, is not out of the wood after his tow in the coroner's office. Murray, the coroner's clerk, charged Jerome with felonious assault this morning on the plea that Murray was a county official and was assaulted while performing his public duty. The case has been adjourned until next Tuesday. Meanwhile, the friends of the complainant are arranging Jerome's punishment for him. It runs all the way from $1,000 fine to five years in the penitentiary with or without the fine.

Shocked by Mitchell's Suicide.

"So Cale Mitchell has done it, eh," was the general observation in the sporting cafes in Upper Broadway tonight. Caleb B. W. Mitchell, the big gambler, who committed suicide in Saratoga today, was known to every sporting man in the country, and he had a great many friends in Pittsburgh. He was always interested in racing, owned horses, and was for a long time president of the village of Saratoga. He used to be in New York very often, and was rather a familiar figure in Broadway as well as at the race meetings at Sheepshead Bay, Morris Park and other tracks in this vicinity. He was a popular man, and there are many expressions of sorrow here over his unexpected end.

Agitator Rossa Getting Well.

J. O'Donovan Rossa, the Irish nationalist agitator, is not going to die this time. He has been seriously ill at his home on Staten Island, and it was feared that his ailment would prove fatal, but the sturdy dynamiter has thrown off the grasp of the grisly one and expects to be out, writing fierce anti-British newspaper articles and delivring patriotic speeches with all his old time fervor in the course of a week or so.

If Not Murder, Then Forgery.

If Osborne, the square-jawed assistant district attorney, cannot prove Albert T. Patrick guilty of murder he will try to convict him of forgery. Most of the evidence today was directed to showing that forgery was committed by some one to get possession of Rice's strong box and take from it $2,709,000 in securities, together with the will of the old man. The day in court was rather in favor of the prosecution in the general opinion, but it did not disturb the prisoner. Nothing seems to do that.

Former Cruisers Popular Liners.

The big American liner St. Paul sailed for Southampton this morning. She had a large passenger list, but there were no Pittsburgh names upon it. A large crowd was down at the pier to see the vessel leave this port, as usual. The ships of this line have always been of special interest since the war with Spain, the feeling being that they represent war cruisers rather than passenger vessels, and that they never can quite regain their old peaceful character, no matter how long they are kept quietly on the ocean ferry. Gilbert Parker, M. P., novelist and dramatist, was a passenger today.

Plenty of Snow This Time.

New York is under a blanket of snow tonight, and the official forecast is that it will snow most of tomorrow. This is the first blizzard we have had this winter, although there was a flurry of snow a few weeks ago. This time there is no mistake about it. It has been coming down in heavy masses—they are more than flakes—since the forenoon, and there is no indication that the fall will stop soon. New Yorkers were disposed to plume themselves on the fact that while many big cities in the west, including Pittsburgh, had been wallowing in snow, there had been sunshine and dry streets here. It may be that the blizzard which has just started may be as big as the memorable storm in 1888, although it is not expected; but then, for that matter, it was not expected in 1888, either.

Snow Good for the Unemployed.

There is always plenty of work in New York for men that are not afraid of manual labor. The snowstorm has increased the employment for able bodied laborers. A call for 6,000 men was sent out this afternoon, and anyone able to handle a shovel can be working all night getting the snow out of the way in Greater New York. This work will last for eight days at least, and if there are any idle men in this city for that period it will be their own fault. More than 100 department carts and the entire street cleaning force of the city belonging to the district below Canal street is co-operating with the contractors' men in cleaning the business part of Manhattan borough tonight. All the streets and ferry approaches are expected to be cleared by the time business opens tomorrow morning. The contractors will need more than 3,000 snow shovelers in Manhattan alone, and thousands more will be busy in Brooklyn and other boroughs making up the greater city. The shovelers will get 20 cents an hour, and representatives of the contractors were busy all the afternoon at substations about the city engaging men. It is a great boom for labor.

Made J. P. Morgan Visible.

The streets were very slippery this afternoon when the snow was only thinly spread over the surface. A horse hitched to a heavy wagon loaded with building material slid down the short hill in Wall street from Broadway to Broad street. He did not stop until his forefeet rested upon the first step at the entrance to the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., at the southeast corner. There was a general laugh from the irrepressible crowd of curb brokers and messenger boys, and one man's voice sang out: "That's right. Go right in and see Mr. Morgan. You'll find him on the first floor back." All the same the instant the well-known features of Mr. Morgan himself appeared above the wire blind in his office, and he smiled slightly, evidently having heard and appreciated the sally.

Lived in Washington's Time.

Another colored centenarian of the father of his country died this morning in Hoboken. He was Peter Lee, born in Hoboken of slave parents more than 100 years ago, and in the service of the Stevens family, which included the famous Mrs. Paran Stevens, all his life. He died on the Stevens estate, Castle Point, Hoboken. Lee was born in 1795.

Tug-o'-War Kills a Girl.

Athletics caused the death of a young girl in Brooklyn today. She was Gertrude D. Spencer, 17 years of age, whose parents are well-to-do people of the borough. Gertrude had just returned from France, where she had been educated in a convent. Some time ago there was a tug-o'-war contest among the girls, and Gertrude was "anchor." The rope was wound about her waist, and when the tug came she was squeezed so severely that a tumor developed. She was operated on yesterday and died this morning. She was a popular girl, and the cause of her death has set many Brooklyn parents to inquiring into the character of the physical exercises in schools where their daughters attend. Miss Spencer comes from an old Philadelphia family.

Remembered McKinley's Birthday.

Gov. Odell having set today, the birthday of President McKinley, as occasion for observance in the public schools of the state, all the schools in this city held exercises of some sort.

Woes of the Suburban Theatergoer.

The fact that there are at least half a dozen first nights at different theaters in Manhattan brings up the reminder that New Yorkers who happen to live in Staten Island or at other places outside the immediate purlieus of Greater New York have more trouble to reach their homes after midnight than Pittsburghers would think possible. There are no all-night cars running in Staten Island, for instance, and the residents of that particular section of Greater New York are up in arms. The franchise of the street railway company calls for the running of all night cars. When a theatrical performance on Broadway runs later than midnight, as it often does on the first night, the hustling of commuters and suburbanites generally to get out of their seats to make their trolley cars or trains, is one of the regular disturbances of the occasion.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Sister M. Constance Bentivoglio.

OMAHA, NEB., Jan. 30.—Sister Mary Constance Bentivoglio, mother superior of the Omaha convent of St. Clare, and relative of Pope Leo, died early today at the monastery, of pneumonia, after two weeks' illness. She had been for years the mother superior of the convent of St. Angelo in Rome, while her father was governor of the Italian capital. She was a descendant of the famous house of Bentivoglio, and one of her brothers, Count Bentivoglio, is prominent among Italian statesmen of today. Her father was a native of Bologna, Italy, and her relations are still there, with the exception of Sister Magdalene, who is mother superior of the monastery at Evansville, Ind., a branch of the Omaha community. A sister of a century ago visited Magdalene and Constance decided to establish a home for that order in some part of the United States. John A. Creighton offered them a site and money for the home in Omaha, and they were the first branch established in this country. No arrangements have been made for the funeral, but it is likely that the remains will be sent to Evansville, Ind., for burial at the home of her sister. There will be no public funeral ceremonies.

The Hon. Thomas H. Morgan.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 30.—The Hon. Thomas H. Morgan, prominent citizen of New Castle, was instantly killed by a fall at 8 o'clock this morning while going to his office from his home in East Grant avenue. He slipped on ice, the back of his head struck the pavement and instant death resulted. Mr. Morgan was born in Pittsburgh in September, 1826, and came here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Morgan, 10 years later. He was graduated from Jefferson Bradley academy in Allegheny, in 1848, and read law with Col. McComb and D. S. Kerr. He was admitted to the bar in 1852. In 1861 he was elected first mayor of New Castle. In 1861 he enlisted in Knapp's independent battery E, and served gallantly four years. He was married to Miss Rebecca Law, who, with one daughter, Miss Jennie L. Morgan, survives him. Two sons, George C. and John L., who were promising young attorneys, died almost simultaneously in September, 1893. Mr. Morgan was a brother of the late Mrs. John Dewar. The late E. J. N. Morgan, who was governor of Wyoming territory, and the late Dr. Charles Morgan.

David L. King.

AKRON, O., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—David L. King died at home in this city today of old age. He was one of the pioneers in the manufacturing and business life of Akron, and probably had a greater influence upon its development than any other one man. His greatest work was the building of the Valley railway, now a part of the Baltimore & Ohio system, known as the Cleveland Terminal & Valley railway and running between Cleveland and Canton. He was graduated from Harvard at the age of 21 and practiced law until 1867, when he went into business, becoming interested in the manufacture of sewer pipe. From that time until a dozen years ago he was identified with the leading manufacturers of Akron. Mr. King was married in 1848 to Miss Rosia Washington Steele of Charleston, Va., a grand niece of George Washington. Three children, out of five are living. Mr. King was prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity and was one of the three men in Akron to receive the 33d degree.

Mrs. John T. Farr.

Mrs. Joan T. Farr, aged 59 years, of Avalon, died at the residence of her son, Clark Farr, in Avalon on Tuesday. Mrs. Farr was born in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, and spent the greater part of her life in the vicinity of East Fairfield, O. Her husband was postmaster at East Fairfield for many years. They moved to Avalon three years ago. Mrs. Farr was well-known in Bellevue and Avalon for her church and charitable work. She was a member of the Avalon Christian church. Deceased is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Cherie Farr, and one son, Clark Farr, of Avalon.

Richard E. Welsh.

Richard E. Welsh, an aged resident of Crafton, died at his home on Steuben street, Crafton, yesterday morning. He was a prominent resident of the Chartiers valley and a retired merchant. He had been in business for the past 50 years and was a member of St. Philip's Roman Catholic church of that place. He is survived by his wife, and the six children, Dr. Arthur Welsh of Homestead, Richard Welsh, Misses Nellie Anna, Katherine and Catherine Welsh of Crafton.

Mrs. Frances Wymard.

Mrs. Frances Wymard, aged 21 years, wife of William J. Wymard, died at the family home at Hawkins yesterday afternoon of pneumonia. Three small children survive. She was a daughter of Mrs. John Holland of the East End, Pittsburgh. Deceased was a member of St. Boniface's Roman Catholic church, Braddock. Besides her husband and family her mother, seven sisters and two brothers survive.

John G. Johnson.

MEADOWVILLE, W. VA., Jan. 29.—John G. Johnson, a widely-known miller, is dead at the age of 95. He operated a mill for nearly three-quarters of a century, and at one time furnished meal to the greater part of the residents of this county. His mill is a landmark. He leaves six children, eight grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Bernard Cull.

Bernard Cull, aged 72 years, for many years a resident of the Fourteenth ward, died yesterday at his home, No. 845 Greenfield avenue. Mr. Cull was born in Ireland, and came to this country when quite young, locating in the Fourteenth ward. He was a member of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church. His widow and one son, Bernard, Jr., survive.

Mrs. Celia J. Martin.

Mrs. Celia J. Martin, aged 80 years, is dead at the family residence, No. 906 Penn avenue. For the past 50 years she had been a resident of the Fourth ward, where her husband, the late Nathaniel Martin, died well known. Three daughters survive. She was a member of St. Paul's cathedral.

Mrs. Mary Patterson.

Mrs. Mary Patterson, aged 59 years, wife of John Patterson, died yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 5 Beatty street, East End. She was born in Wilmington, Del., and resided in that city until her marriage to Mr. Patterson five years ago. She is survived by her husband.

Margaret Isabel Dubbs.

Margaret Isabelle Dubbs, the 5-year-old daughter of J. N. and Margaret Dubbs (nee Shoettan), died on Tuesday at the family residence on Hazelwood avenue, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Maria Antoinette Parker, wife of William Parker, is dead at her late home, No. 1316 Beaver avenue, Allegheny.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

There Will Be but One Actual Novelty in the Theaters—That a Woman of Wild Western Life.

"Florodora," the big musical comedy, will play a return engagement at the Alvin next week. This time the New York company will be seen, including Edna Wallace Hopper, Helen Redmond, Cyril Scott and R. E. Graham, with all the special costuming and the famous double sextet.

One of the biggest successes of the season two years ago was "A Celestial Girl," which came to Pittsburgh, also one of the Trehmani companies. Manager Davis made arrangements for the production at the Grand for the week beginning next Monday, when the original manuscript, the original scene models and all of the details that marked its original production will be seen here.

Blaney's splendid comedy drama, "Across the Pacific," which played a most successful engagement at the Bijou last season and which will be the attraction next week at the Bijou, commencing with a special matinee Monday, was constructed from the abundance of material offered by the war in the Philippines.

A dramatic treat is promised at the Empire theater next week in the initial production in this city of Charles Leonard Moore's American comedy drama, "Sons of the Star Z Ranch," with Allen Archer in the title role. "Sons of the Star Z" is a comedy drama, the scenes of which are laid among the cattle ranges of New Mexico.

Hyde's comedians come to the Duquesne theater next week with a more attractive list of vaudeville entertainers than ever. Included in the company are Hughes and Anger, travesty artists; Trovollo, ventriloquist; Miss Grace Emmett & Co., the farcical comedienne, and the Musical Cutler Family.

The Bryant Burlesquers, which come to the Academy next week, has an elite of merit with such acts as Perry-Reeves trio, Lew Palmer and the Kikamura Japanese troupe, six in number.

ADVANCE IN PRICES.

Sudden Move in Window Glass Concerns Causes Sharp Rally.

The unexpected move of the American Window Glass and the Federation Co-Operative Window Glass Companies in adopting a higher price policy instead of meeting the Independent Glass Company in the open market has resulted in a sharp advance in prices by the jobbers. Leading jobbers are now making discounts of 90 and 10 per cent off the jobbers' list, while a few weeks ago they were selling at 80, 15 and 2½ per cent off for single strength and 90, 20 and 2½ per cent off on double strength.

The high price attitude of the heavies, predicting interests is expected to stop the fight and save some of the profits of manufacture. The Burns organization of the workers, supplying the American Company and many co-operating factories, is said to be gaining large numbers of men from the newer rival organization.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1902.

SOUTH AND WEST WAS PRESENT AT A WEDDING

ONE of the prettiest home weddings of the season was that of Miss Effie Stowell Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lysle Stuart, and Noble Calhoun Banks of Savannah, Ga., last evening. It was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Hays street, East End. The Stuarts came to Pittsburgh recently from St. Louis where they were prominent socially, and a number of friends from St. Louis, Cincinnati and Savannah, Ga., were present.

The ceremony was performed in the handsome parlors, which were decorated in green and white, by the Rev. Joseph T. Gibson, D. D., acting pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Daisy Stuart, the maid of honor, and Miss Ruth Stuart, the only bridesmaid. Two small boys carried the ribbons forming the aisle through which the bridal party passed, the ribbon bearers being Master Frank Milburn Rees, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Rees of Hays street, and Master Edward A. Sloan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Sloan, also of Hays street. Charles Banks of Savannah, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and a brother of the bride, Lysle Stuart, was the usher. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin trimmed with chiffon and point and duchess lace, the bodice being composed entirely of the chiffon and lace. The long bridal veil of tulle was fastened with a tall white plume and the bride carried a cluster of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a beautiful gown of white renaissance lace over white silk and her bouquet was composed of pink roses, while her sister, the bridesmaid, was gowned in white pointe d'esprit over pink silk and carried pink roses.

The wedding ceremony was followed by supper. Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom left for a western trip, extending to St. Louis, where they will stay for a few days before going to Mexico, California and other points on the Pacific coast. They will be away several months and after their return will make their home for a time at the Schenley, where Mr. Banks has been living since he came to Pittsburgh. He is connected with the Westinghouse interests in East Pittsburgh. Present at the wedding last evening was Miss Banks, a sister of the bridegroom, who came on from Savannah for a visit with Mrs. Edward Hanna Small before the Christmas holidays.

Guests at the Military Ball.

Col. F. I. Rutledge has received many responses from officers and officials who will attend the Eighteenth regiment ball at the Hotel Schenley Friday evening. Among those that have said they will be present are Maj. Gen. Charles Miller, Franklin; Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley and staff; Col. F. G. Elliott of Philadelphia, inspector general of the state; Col. L. A. Watres of Scranton, commanding the Thirteenth regiment, N. G. P.; Maj. Lewis Baitler, Harrisburg, secretary commonwealth; Capt. T. W. Griffith of the Eighteenth United States infantry; Capt. Kleiman of the Twenty-third United States infantry; Col. N. G. Price, Jr., of Philadelphia, commanding the Third regiment, N. G. P.; Capt. S. L. Jones, Tyrone, of the Sheridan troop, and a large number of officers of the governor's staff and all the officers of Maj. Gen. Miller's staff. President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt sent their regrets.

A daintily appointed afternoon tea was given at the Twentieth Century club yesterday by Mrs. Haines Allen Machesney in honor of the recent bride, Mrs. Calvert Lewis, formerly Miss Fannie Rogers of Oakland. The club house has held no more smartly conducted reception than that which filled the late afternoon hours.

Mrs. Machesney and Mrs. Lewis stood together in the large assembly room. Mrs. Charles Machesney received with them. The decorations were in green and white. Lilies were the only flowers appearing in the large reception room, while across the hall, in the small reception room and in the dining-room white bride's roses appeared in luxuriant masses amid a background of small ferns. Smilax wreathed doorways and windows and the lights were subdued by dainty shades. The hostess had asked nearly 40 of her close friends to assist informally and the pleasure of the occasion was largely increased by their efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, whose wedding occurred a few weeks ago, have just returned from their wedding trip and are making their home, until spring, with Mrs. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Margaret C. Rogers, in Fifth avenue, Oakland.

Women Artists and Teachers.

The public exhibition of the School of Design for Women opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the school galleries, No. 708 Penn avenue. From the opening until the closing of the doors at 5 p. m. there was a constant stream of visitors. The attendance was greater than on any opening day for many years. The exhibition will continue until Saturday evening. Among the School of Design women now located in Pittsburgh are Miss Jennie MacMasters, the architect and instructor of design; Miss Jennie Boetwick, art instructor at the Pittsburgh college; Miss Ida Smith, artist and art teacher at the Thurston school; Miss Eva Armor and Miss May Murray, designers for glass staining; Miss Olive Turney, Miss Frances McCreery, Miss Lidie Gray, Miss Carrie Miller, Miss Laura Fowelson and Miss Elizabeth Rabb, all of whom are engaged in teaching; Miss Fannie Agnew, Miss Virginia Kerr, Miss Anna McKee, Miss Florence Speer, Miss Sadie Kier, Miss Libbie Bense, Mrs. William Walters, Mrs. Johanna Woodwell Hallman, Miss Anna Woodward and Mrs. Harry Scully.

Charles Stanly Reinhart received his first instructions in drawing at the night classes of the school. John W. Alexander, known now throughout the art world, was another pupil. John O. Bragdon, so well known locally as a draughtsman and engraver, was enrolled in the night classes.

The next term at the School of Design will open with 42 beginners. The school now has 81 pupils, an advance over recent years. Mrs. John S. Stevenson of New Castle, a graduate of the school, has offered a prize of $25 for the best art work, the competition to take place in March at the alumni meeting of the school.

Gulick—Dearborn.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Alice Romaine Gulick to Dr. Frederick M. Dearborn was solemnized this evening at the home of the bride's grandfather, James C. Gulick. Only relatives were invited to the ceremony, which was followed by a reception. Miss Ethel Bradley of Mont Clair, N. J., was maid of honor and the Misses Lily B. Morris of Pittsburgh, Jessie L. Allen, Cornelia B. Dearborn, Mabel Hoffman, Jane Lutkins and Eleanor Scott were the bridesmaids. Dr. Dearborn's best man was William J. Getty. The ushers were Dr. David R. Jewett of Rochester, Dr. Thomas E. Davies, Frederick E. Farnsley, Arnold Pupke, Palen Nelson and James C. Gulick, Jr. The Rev. Dr. Wilton Merle Smith of the Central Presbyterian church officiated at the ceremony, which was supplemented by a reception. The bride is the daughter of M. Gulick, manager of the Bijou theater, Pittsburgh.

Entertaining Another Society.

The Christian Endeavorer Society of the First Methodist Protestant church, Aiken avenue and Howe street, will entertain the Endeavor society from the Shady Side Presbyterian church this evening. A spelling bee will be one of the features of the entertainment, Miss Crutchfield being the dictator. Refre

CORPORATION SATISFIED WITH FAIR PROFITS

Declined Opportunity to Advance Prices of Iron and Steel Products.

OUTLOOK IS VERY BRIGHT

Report of the Steel Combine Covering Operations Since Its Organization Very Satisfactory from Stockholders Point of View.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A preliminary report covering the operations of the United States Steel Corporation since it came into existence ten months ago was made to the stockholders today. It was a forerunner to the more extended resume to be submitted at the annual general meeting on February 17, and was designed to familiarize the share owners with the financial status of the company and the trade situation in the market where it buys and sells. The report, signed by both Charles M. Schwab and Elbert H. Gary, declared present business and future outlook, viewed ahead through 1902, to be highly satisfactory. The report said:

The outlook for the year is very bright. Everything indicate, that all of the facilities of each subsidiary company will be taxed to their utmost to supply the demand that is being made. The actual business now booked and of which shipment is being called for faster than it can be supplied amounts to more than half the total combined annual capacity of all the companies.

Sold Nearly a Year Ahead.

The heavier products like rails, billets, plates and structural material are sold up to the productive capacity of the mills until nearly the end of the year. In the more highly finished products the consumption in each case be greater now than at the corresponding period in 1901, which it should be remembered was an abnormally heavy year. The expectation, therefore, of those closely connected with the manufacture and sale of these highly finished products is for a demand even larger than that of 1901 and up to the limit of production.

Discussing prices, the report said they could have been advanced, but that it was decided to be better policy to refrain from doing so. The reference to prices follows in part:

Declined to Advance Prices.

The demand for products has been so great that prices could have easily been advanced. Indeed, higher prices have been voluntarily offered by customers who were anxious for the immediate execution of orders, but the companies have firmly maintained the position of not advancing prices, believing that the existing prices were sufficient to yield a fair return on capital and maintain the properties in satisfactory physical condition, and that the collateral advantages to be gained in the long run by refusing to advance prices would be of substantial and lasting value not only to the companies, but also to the general business interests of the country.

The report asserted that this policy as to prices had not only a reassuring effect upon the trade, but contributed to the restoration of confidence in the general business situation.

Systematizing the Work.

The report said that great progress had been made in the general plan to harmonize the work of the many plants, to secure perfect co-operation and to effect economy in manufacture, but that the end had not been reached and more favorable results might still be accomplished. The departments of ore mining, coal mining, coke making and lake transportation, the report stated, have been thoroughly systematized and the managements of manufacturing plants have been brought into closer relationship. Advantage has been taken of the cheapest distribution in the scheme of economies.

The report reviewed the larger financial operations of the company, including those of its organization, printed the recently published statement of earnings for the first nine months of the existence of the company, and gave a condensed general balance sheet for November 30, 1901. The settlement with the underwriting syndicate was thus stated:

Underwriting Syndicate Paid Off.

The residue of the common and preferred stock of the corporation, delivered to the syndicate under the contract of March 1, 1901, and not used for the acquisition by it of the stocks of the specified companies, being the shares which, as stated in the syndicate circular of March 2, 1901, were to be retained by and to belong to the syndicate, amounted to 649,987 shares of preferred stock and 649,986 shares of common stock. This residue of stock or the proceeds thereof, after reimbursing the syndicate the $25,000,000 in cash which it paid to the corporation and approximately $3,000,000 for other syndicate obligations and expenses, constituted surplus or profits of the syndicate. The transactions between this corporation and the syndicate having been concluded, an agreement of final settlement and mutual release, dated January 3, 1902, was executed between this corporation and the syndicate managers.

What the Balance Sheet Shows.

The condensed balance sheet for November 30 showed that on that day the accounts receivable aggregated $45,269,453, the bills receivable $2,821,463 and the cash on hand $55,315,527, a grand total of $103,406,444. In the list of assets in the balance sheet was a credit of inventories amounting to $95,693,997 and a subjoined tabulation showed that it included ores on hand valued at $34,776,053, finished products $15,322,636, manufacturing supplies and miscellaneous stores $12,170,161 and materials, labor and expense locked up in current uncompleted bridge contracts $9,208,361. The current liabilities on November 30 were stated at $50,269,630, and the surplus of the corporation and the subsidiary companies was placed at $174,344,220. The cost of the properties owned and operated by the several federated companies was given as $1,437,494,502.

Business on a Cash Basis.

"The business of the companies," said the report, "had been put on practically a cash basis. The losses actually incurred through bad debts have been very small and little, if any, loss in the collection of accounts and notes receivable is anticipated. About 70 per cent of the total current monthly accounts due from customers is now being generally collected within 20 days, and it is the effort of the several managements to maintain the business on a strictly cash basis."

CONFLICT LIKELY OVER MINING SCALE

MINERS DEMAND INCREASE, OPERATORS MAY DEMAND A CUT.

Closing of United Mine Workers' Convention Marked by Warm Discussion Over Constitutional Amendment in Which Pennsylvanians Win Out.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 29.—The leading hotels are filled tonight with coal operators from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri who are here for the joint conference with the United Mine Workers beginning tomorrow. This evening a delegation came in from Pittsburgh on a special car. The operators expect a hard fight this time, but there is talk among them to the effect that they will demand a reduction in the present wage scale. The miners regard this as an opening bluff and are prepared to meet it.

The miners will demand a general advance of 10 per cent on a run-of-mine basis for the Hocking valley district, which is the basing point for all of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, and the Danville field, which is the basing point for Illinois and the bituminous field of Indiana. This would be equivalent to about 65 cents a ton for pick mining on a run-of-mine basis in Ohio and Pennsylvania and a trifle less for Indiana and Illinois. If the miners are not able to get an adoption of run-of-mine they will demand a differential of 12½ cents between pick and machine mining on a screen basis. This is for the four states concerned in the competitive agreement.

The miners from Ohio and the Pittsburgh district have united on these demands. The Pittsburgh men held a meeting after the report of the scale committee was adopted and indorsed the report. It is understood that no attempt will be made to fix a scale here for the Central Pennsylvania miners, as they are not well organized and their operators are not paying much attention to the conference, which begins tomorrow.

The convention practically finished all its business tonight and many of the delegates are leaving for their homes. About 300 will remain for the joint conference.

The close of the convention was marked by the turbulent discussion over the adoption of an amendment to the consitution providing for the election of officers of the national organization by popular vote. It has left a bad feeling among the delegates, many of whom think that the change was made in the interest of men who are trying to get control of the organization. The adoption of the amendment was accomplished after a long fight. Vice President Lewis led the opposition to the amendment. He was supported by President Vanhorn of Indiana and President Haskins of Ohio. The strongest supporters of the amendment came from the Pennsylvania anthracite men.

MESSAGE COMES TOO LATE.

Broker's Suicide Would Not Have Occurred If He Had Received Telegram Sent to Him.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Made desperate by financial troubles, most of which he had borne secretly, Lane B. Schofield of the brokerage firm of Schofield, Whicher & Co. committed suicide in his home at West Newton today. He shot himself in the heart. He had lost nearly $200,000 during the last two years. Mr. Schofield was said to be a severe sufferer by the wrecking of the Globe bank.

At the office of Schofield, Whicher & Co. Mr. Whicher said the firm's affairs probably are involved to a certain extent. A thorough investigation will be made of the firm's affairs.

Just as Mr. Whicher received word of the suicide a telegram for Mr. Schofield was received at the office saying that needed financial aid would be extended. This led to the belief that the man thought he had to meet a crisis today and that the message, if seen by him, would have prevented his suicide.

ONE ON THE BOYS.

Mother Rather Got the Start of Them.

Sometimes the mother plays a turn on the young people, and greatly to their benefit. A young lady in Memphis, Tenn., Miss B. Dye of 222 Carroll Ave., comments in an interesting way about the harmless little deception her mother played upon one of the family during the summer.

She says, "Every member of our family could write a testimonial about Postum Food Coffee and what it has done for us. Father has really been made over since quitting coffee and using Postum, but I must tell you about brother.

"When he came home from college last summer he was thin and look dreadfully. We questioned him about his food and drink. He said he drank coffee. 'Of course, I can't get along without a good cup of coffee three times a day.' Mother did not say anything to him, but made Postum for him just the same, and at the next meal he complimented her on the coffee. Several times he said, 'Now if I just had such coffee as this at school I could make better averages in my studies.'

"So during the whole summer he drank Postum, thinking it was strong coffee, and we could all see, from day to day, how much he was improving in health. His complexion gradually cleared up, and he gained in every way. When he went back in the fall mother told him the secret she had kept for over three months, and put several packages of Postum in his trunk.

"You may depend upon it, the lesson was one he will never forget. My younger brother quit coffee about a year ago and has been using Postum Food Coffee, and he has been built up from a regular invalid until he is now a fat, rosy cheeked boy, full of life and fun. Just the other day he remarked he was getting along so much better in his studies than ever before and he wondered what caused the change. Mother remarked, 'It is Postum.'"

BLOODY HISTORY WRITTEN OVER LONDON TOWER

Every Room in the Structure Has Its Own Tragical Chapters.

PALACE, PRISON, ARSENAL

More New Candidates Have Announced for the Grand European Tour of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph.

The tower of London is a peaceful enough place now, thronged with tourists and sightseers, but it has a history that reads like a chapter of horrors. It is really a group of towers covering an area of over 12 acres, adjacent to the scene of the many bloody executions of members of the royal family and the peerage.

There are the Beauchamp, White, Middle, Byward, Bell and Bloody towers, each with a history of its own. Shakespeare and some others have ascribed the beginnings of the structure to the Roman conquest of Julius Caesar, but the authorities generally agree it was begun by William the Conqueror, who completed the tower in Trinity house, headquarters of "the masters, wardens and assistants of the guild, fraternity or brotherhood of the most glorious and undividable Trinity," founded by Sir Thomas Spert, chartered by Henry VIII., "good King Hal," its object the promotion of English navigation.

On the east side of Tower Hill is the royal mint, of which Sir Isaac Newton was master from 1699 to 1727, and Sir John Herschel from 1850 to 1855. Just below the tower the modern invades the scene in the form of the new Tower bridge. It is a balanced drawbridge on the bascule principle, 142 feet above the water and with a principal span of 200 feet. An enumeration of a few years ago showed that about 10,000 vehicles and 20,000 pedestrians crossed this bridge daily. The teachers who tour Europe as guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will visit the tower of London and its environs.

Constant Growth of Interest.

Interest in the tour grows greater as the close of the first month of the contest approaches. More candidates are entering the race, while those already in are exerting themselves to win the very desirable prizes. The teachers understand perfectly that it is no cheap excursion they are offered, but a tour that any one might be glad to take. These new names have come in during the day:

Miss Adessa Lingle, Portageboro school, Cambria county.

Mr. Guy Morris, Claylick school, Ruran, Greene county.

Ira D. Campbell, Endeavor school, Forest county.

Miss Estella Scott, Park school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Catherine A. Corrigan, Everson school, Fayette county.

Miss Harriett A. Graham, Irwin avenue school, Second ward, Allegheny.

Miss Gertrude Stephens, Brookville schools, Jefferson county, Pa.

Miss Minnie Patterson, Larimer school, Pittsburgh, was announced as of Larimer, Westmoreland county. The error was an easy one to make, as there is a Larimer school in the latter county.

Miss Lillian McKee of Allegheny and Miss Lacee Greenawalt of Manor, who have been voted for and announced, have requested publication of the fact that they are not candidates. Their friends will be under the necessity of finding someone else to support.

The Charleroi Daily Mail says: "Miss Janet Campbell, Charleroi's candidate for The Pittsburgh Gazette-Chronicle Telegraph European trip is meeting with encouragement from many points. Ballots are coming in by hundreds, and if Miss Campbell's friends keep up their present gait she will be a winner."

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series closes. They must be filled out legibly, with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumpled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrives London July 13; Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28; The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 9; leaves Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbus, August 9; expect to arrive New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside of the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and these papers will give each member of the party $30 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31 and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballots will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.

WOMEN RULING POWER IN THE PHILIPPINES

Gen. Bell Says One American Wife Can Do More Than a Whole Company of White Men.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—One American woman can contribute more to the reformation of the Filipinos than any company of American men, soldiers or civilian, according to a personal letter received by Maj. Gen. H. C. Corbin from Brig. Gen. J. F. Bell, commanding the department of northern Luzon. Gen. Bell says he is a strong believer in permitting the wives of American officers on duty in the Philippines to join their husbands, declaring that the women exert a most potent influence in our political purposes with regard to the islands.

Gen. Bell says that in his old volunteer regiment, the Thirty-sixth infantry, there were 12 young women, wives of officers. He encouraged them to go with their husbands to the towns the husbands were commanding, and the people soon became so devoted to them that when the time came to depart for the United States the natives, irrespective of age or sex, wept like children.

Gen. Bell says the American women exert their influence through the Filipino women, the latter having more influence on public opinion than the men of the islands.

Second Day of the Furniture Clearance

Will Show Cumulative Interest

This is invariably the case with our semi-annual sales of odd things and sample pieces. The first day brings out persons who have attended our sales for years—today there'll be many here whose curiosity has been stimulated by the reports of those who came yesterday. Our selection of fine furniture at reduced prices was never so conspicuously noteworthy.

And in accordance with our long-established policy, the old tag remains on each piece of furniture. The new tag with its reduced price stands out in contrast. This facilitates selling—is the most expeditious method, as well as the one most satisfactory to customers. It is not in our province to urge anyone to attend this sale, but we suggest that TODAY presents very exceptional opportunities, as the sale will end tomorrow at 6 p. m.

These few items are indicative of the rest—and there are so many here that you'll find the display replete with interest.

The reason for the success of these semi-annual sales is that the people believe in them implicitly. The foundation of this public confidence is not hard to discern. The standard rigidly maintained by this establishment is such as to merit the feeling which should always exist between customers and those who sell goods.

Ripans Tabules are the best medicine in the world. There is scarcely any condition of ill health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a Ripans Tabule, and the price—10 for 5 cents—does not bar them from any home or justify any one in enduring ills that are easily cured. A family bottle containing 150 tabules is sold for 60 cents. For sale by druggists.

Baseball Peace Is Not Far Off

THE PIRATES' LEADER SAYS IT'S ALL RIGHT

President Dreyfuss Writes League Muddle Will Soon Be Settled.

FRED CLARKE SATISFIED

He Has Been Worrying a Little, but the President's Letter Has Set His Mind at Rest—Preparing for the Pirates' Spring Trip.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club is not in New Mexico holding secret conferences with A. G. Spalding. Neither is he at Menter park Florida playing golf with W. C. Temple and Secretary Harry Pulliman. The boss of the Pirates is still in Louisville and judging from the letter received from him yesterday he intends remaining in the land of colonels for some time.

The letter received yesterday was in response to one sent by Manager Clarke a few days ago wanting some information on the baseball question. Manager Clarke confessed that the complications were more puzzling to him than a dish of chop suey and he wrote to the fountain head of the Pirates for enlightenment. It was the first letter the manager had received from the president for two weeks and was therefore a welcome one. In the letter Mr. Dreyfuss said he was perfectly satisfied with the way things stand at present and assured Manager Clarke that everything would come out all right in a short time.

Mr. Dreyfuss states that the weather conditions in Louisville are so pleasant that he will remain there for some time and he gave no intimation of when he intended returning here to take up his baseball duties. The letter which Manager Clarke received was rather a long one, but the manager said it only confirmed the information given above. It was noticed, however, that it brought a smile to Clarke's face and it's a good guess that there was something which enlightened the manager on the muddle and made him think all the better of the Spalding side of the battle.

Manager Clarke is not like many baseball managers, waiting for a decision one way or the other between the magnates. He is doing a lot of preliminary training in the way of skating and hockey playing at Duquesne Garden. The popular captain of the Pirates has become quite an expert with the hockey stick, and he is thinking of taking a chance in one of the big games. Honus Wagner was to have joined the captain in this preliminary practice work, but the hero of Carnegie failed to appear, and Clarke now thinks Honus was bluffing about his sore ankle.

Manager Clarke between skating bouts has time to make arrangements for the trip the Pirates to Hot Springs for their spring training. He is anxious for the arrival of the time of departure, which is two days ago, because he wants to kill two birds with one stone. He will accompany the players as far as the springs, then leave them in charge of Jack O'Connor and proceed to Winfield, Kan., where he has large property interests which need looking after at this time. Manager Fred has one of his farms laid out and it appears that the lessee is not doing exactly the square thing, so Fred wants to go out there and give him a talking to. If he does it in the same spirit he cajoles umpires, the farmer will be sorry he ever saw Kansas.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Y. U. P.'S Old Players Will Once More Don Uniforms.

The famous basketball team which won second place for Western university in the league of '98 and '99, and almost captured the pennant, has been reorganized under the managership of Sam Suter, who was at that time Wup's star goal thrower and the best forward in the league. The first game will be played in the university gymnasium in Allegheny, Friday evening, January 31, when they will meet the senior basketball team of the university.

Great excitement already prevails over the probable outcome of the game as the seniors have won all their games so far this season, owing largely to the brilliant playing of Fullerton and Wallace, the two players who have no superiors among the old stars. Many of the alumni declare they will turn out and cheer for their old comrades, while the '02 class will be there in force to support the juniors. The teams will line-up as follows:

Seniors.	Alumni.
Wallace	Right forward	Hunter
Fullerton	Left forward	Collins
Hunt	Center	C. Lambie
Lambie	Right guard	G. Wallace
Hunter	Left guard	Bowsing or O'Hagen

WUP WON AGAIN.

Hockey Team Is Beginning to Show Its Strength.

The rejuvinated W. U. P. Medical hockey team won its second game of the season yesterday afternoon at Duquesne garden by defeating the East Liberty academy team by a score of 2 to 0. The Wups were strong on both the offensive and the defensive. East Liberty's goalkeeper, Evans, had lots of work in stopping the shots of the W. U. P. men, but the goals of the game were made in the first half. Phillips and McLain getting credit for the points. Line-up:

W. U. P.—2.		East Liberty A.—0.
Evans	Goal	Evans
Phillips	Point	Collins
Bunton	Cover point	Zahniser
Harcourt	Center	Bunton
Mueller	Forward	Harcourt
Lally	Left wing	Lally
Phillips, McLain.	Right wing	Mueller

JONES WON AGAIN.

Defeated Letts Ten Feet in the Two Mile Skating Race.

The two-mile skating race at Duquesne garden last night between A. Leslie Jones, indoor champion, and William T. Letts of this city, was won by Jones in 6:48⅘. The first mile was covered in 2:57½ and Letts led all the way. Jones took the lead when half of the second mile was skated and he won by about 10 feet. The race was close and exciting all the way.

PAID HIS OWNER BY WINNING RACE

WILTON'S VICTORY BROUGHT MORE THAN PURCHASE PRICE.

Bought a Few Days Ago for $800 and Won an Event Worth Nearly a Thousand—Merry Sister's Bad Turn Cost Favorite the Event.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—Tony Licalzi more than won the filly Wilton out today. Recently he bought her from Felix Carr, representing Barney Schreiber, for $800, and this afternoon he landed the Orleans Railroad Company stake at three furlongs and worth $965 to the winner, by a nose in a driving finish. The Walden filly Merry Sister was the choice in the betting at twos, but a wide turn into the stretch prevented what seemed surely a winner and landed her in third place. Navasota, who held second place throughout, was but a neck behind at the end. Ben Frost ran away a mile while at the post in the second race and his entry will be refused in future. Prince Blazes and Strangest were the winning favorites. The weather was cloudy and warm and the track heavy. Summaries:

Prince Blazes Set the Pace.

First race, selling, 1 mile—Prince Blazes, 106, Nutt, 9 to 5, won; St. David, 104, Brennan, 7 to 1, second; Elsie Bramble, 109, Coburn, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:46. Farmer Bennett, The Bronze Demon, Raparmo, Chancery, John Baker, Gracious, Sir Kingston and Dutch Carter also ran.

Second race, selling, 6 furlongs—Small Jack, 94, Hope, 12 to 1, won; If You Dare, 106, Dominick, 3 to 1, second; Ante Up, 95, C. Thompson, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. Jim Nap, Uterp, Wallenstein, Carl Kahler, Bright, Quite Right, Avator, Surmount and Ben Frost also ran.

Third race, steeplechase, handicap, short course—Dagmar, 144, Bartley, 5 to 2, won; Mr. Rose, 130, J. Gormley, 11 to 5, second; Maclaren, 155, C. Wilson, 5 to 1, third. Time, 3:10. Divertisement, W. H. Dixon, Princess Murphy and Patroon also ran.

Fourth race, Orleans Railroad Company stake, 3 furlongs—Wilton, 111, Odom, 6 to 1, won; Navasota, 110, Landry, 7 to 1, second; Merry Sister, 115, Lyne, 2 to 1, third. Time, 0:38. Computation, Dark Planet, Pure Dale, Filey, Deck, Lady Matchless, Lady Shots and Royal Deceiver also ran.

Fifth race, handicap 1 1-16 miles—Circus, 87, W. Waldo, 4 to 1, won; Silver Coin, 95, G. Thompson, 8 to 5, second; Nobleman, 100, Louden, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:48½. Handicapper also ran.

Sixth race, selling, 1 miles—Strangest, 96, Dean, 6 to 5, won; Swordsman, 101, Lyne, 7 to 2, second; Choirmaster, 101, Breeman, 15 to 5, third. Time, 1:39⅘. Farmington, Pay the Piddler, Robert Bonner, Radiant Heat and Rebel Jack also ran.

The Entries for Today.

RACES WERE SPOILED.

Bad Starting Caused a Bad Upset at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Starter Holtman was in poor form today, especially in the McDonough handicap, where he let Water Cure, the odds on favorite, get away very badly, while Corrigan got away flying. Corrigan led all the way, winning from Florongo. Jackson did not appear to be able to handle Water Cure well, and he was a distant third. Redwald of the Jennings stable upset calculations by winning the fifth race at odds of 20 to 1, beating Tower of Candles in a drive. Summary:

First race, futurity course, selling—Sharp Bird, 105, Birkenruth, 2 to 1, won; Dollie Weithoff, 109, Hoar, 6 to 1, second; Tiburon, 105, Bullman, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:09⅘. Pebruary, Chapple, Eldred, Novia, Fridolin, Modder, Ship Me and Buck Taylor ran.

Second race, mile, selling—Commissioner Forster, 92, L. Jackson, 3 to 2, won; Sugar Boy, O'Connor, 3½ to 1, second; Ada N., 104, Hansch, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:41¾. Schintlate, Arigato, Koenig and Invicus ran.

Third race, 13-16 mine, selling—Quiet, 122, Burns, 4 to 1, won; Lydo, 120, O'Connor, 8 to 1, second; Jingler, 119, Mounce, even, third. Time, 1:22½. Autumn Time, Claudator and Arthur Ray ran.

Fourth race, mile, handicap—Corrigan, 95, Ransch, 3 to 1, won; Florono, 100, McGhn, 8 to 1, second; Water Cure, 122, L. Jackson, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:40⅘. MacDyle ran.

Fifth race, three-fourths mile, selling—Redwald, 104, Burns, 10 to 1, won; Tower of Candles, 99, L. Jackson, 7 to 5, second; Vantine, 107, O'Connor, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:15¾. Rollick, Fine Shot, Afghan and Cousin Carrie ran.

YALE'S CREWS ARE SELECTED FOR THIS SEASON

Captain Kunzig Names the Men Who Will Fight for the 'Varsity.

MAY MAKE ENGLAND TRIP

That Is the Talk Now, Though No Official Decision Has Been Reached. Blue May Race the Annapolis Crew This Season.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Jan. 29.—Capt. Phil H. Kunzig of the Yale crew today picked two 'varsity crews. The make-up of the first and second eights is as follows:

First stroke—Adams, 7; Stubbs, 6; Judson, 5; Weymouth, 4; Scott, 3; Auchincloss, 2; Sargent, bow Lincoln.

Second stroke—Bogue, 7; Laws, 5; Kinzig, 5; Johnson, 4; Ackley, 3; Hewitt, 2; Strong, boy Waterman.

These two crews will form the nucleus for the 'varsity squad this season, other 'varsity men may be picked from the class crews as they develop sufficiently. A third 'varsity crew, consisting of the most promising men will be picked in about a fortnight. The two 'varsity eights began regular daily practice this afternoon under direction of Coach John A. Kennedy.

The negotiations with Harvard for a series of races and a trip to England is being talked of at Yale. No decision has been reached about the trip. President Roderick Potter of the Yale navy is authority of the statement that Yale had declined the invitation sent by the Annapolis eight for a race on the Severn with Pennsylvania, Harvard and Georgetown. He said that Yale had challenged Annapolis to a dual race, and would send down to Annapolis last year's freshman crew if the middies accept. The date named by Yale is May 10.

The Yale navy has given out a contract to build a $1,500 addition to the university boathouse on the Quinnipiac river. It will be used for storing the navy equipment, especially the new launch, which is being built at Boston. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York city, Yale '95, is chairman of the building committee. He says that the launch will be ready for the spring coaching, which begins in April.

HEART TO HEART TALKS.
My Dear Young Men:
There has been too much stress laid at the present and waiting at the bung hole; too much littleness and not enough public spirit shown. Get up and get enough ambition to help keep the city clean by keeping up a good appearance, making our city attractive to strangers and satisfying to ourselves? No man should have a dingy looking house when painting is done so reasonable as here.

COULDN'T TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HIGHER RATES

Bar Iron Men Abstained from Raising Prices Because They Can't Fill Orders.

MILLS HEAVILY BOOKED

Prosperous Condition of the Sharon Steel Company—Promoter Bartlett Strikes Snag in Trying to Organize English Rival of Steel Combine.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Steel interests here are unable to make the reported action of the bar iron men at Pittsburg accord with the actual conditions as they are understood to exist. Notwithstanding that the bar iron pool adjourned without agreeing upon an advance, the prices established last week by the Republic Iron and Steel Company continue in force. They represent an advance of $1 a ton in the price of iron bars and $2 a ton in steel bars. With but few exceptions every producer of iron and steel bars is quoting similar prices.

The explanation here is that members of the pool realizing that mills were so heavily booked as to make it impossible for them to take new business for early delivery agreed that it would be well to postpone advance. The moral effect of this, of course, is something.

The Conditions Explained.

A representative of the companies involved said today:

It is true that steel and iron bars are being quoted $1 and $2 higher than the prices of last week, but producers are booked so far ahead that prices for the present have ceased to be a factor, so far as the actual returns are concerned. My own company might sell twice the amount of iron it is producing at prices ranging several dollars a ton above current quotations, likewise a great many other producers are sold so far ahead that we are unable to take new business for near delivery. We tell customers that our quotations are $1 60 at Pittsburg, but we would have to throw up our hands if that customer were to order 1,000 pounds for delivery within three months. Had manufacturers advanced quotations $2 a ton, very few, if any, concerns would have been immediately benefited to the extent of a dollar. The main object is to keep prices on a reasonable level, but this is a task that is constantly growing more difficult.

Attention was called to the fact that the advance in the price of nuts and bolts was the direct result of higher prices now prevailing for bar iron.

The Sharon Company's Boom.

The New York directors of the Sharon Steel Company returned here today from Sharon, where they had been in attendance at the annual meeting of the stockholders. They report unprecedented demand for iron and steel and say that manufacturers might get almost any price they choose to ask if they could undertake to make prompt deliveries.

Secretary Whitla of the Sharon Steel Company speaks enthusiastically of the situation. Among other things he says:

"The tonnage of our mills for the first half of the calendar year is entirely sold, and at very good prices. The demand is still active and there is no indication of a reaction. The outlook is decidedly encouraging."

New Brake Shoe Combine.

The Brake Shoe and Foundry Company was incorporated today in New Jersey with a capital stock of $3,000,000. The incorporators are all associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey. This is the company that will be made the basis of the consolidation of several important shoe-brake manufacturing concerns. Sergeant & Co. of Chicago and the Ramapo Foundry Company of New Jersey, two of the largest concerns of the kind in the country, already have subscribed to the consolidation. The charter of the Brake Shoe and Foundry Company is very broad, permitting the manufacture of a great variety of railroad appliances.

Bartlett Encounters Difficulties.

Information received by cable today from Birmingham, Eng., that some of the shareholders in the Nettlefold companies were strongly opposed to the merger with Guest, Keen & Co. and other iron and steel concerns, was read in steel trade circles here with a "we-told-you-so" air. This is the English consolidation proposed by John E. Bartlett, about which a great deal lately has been heard from the other side. American authorities have insisted that Mr. Bartlett had undertaken a more difficult thing than he knew. The formation of a steel combination in Great Britain is a "horse of" with more obstacles than American promoters ever have had to contend with, many such obstacles arising from the stubborn conservatism of English interests. This is not to say, of course, that Mr. Bartlett will fail, but it would not be surprising to American interests if he did.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Colorado is now fully under the influence of the oil fever. There are 11 counties in the state in which oil has been found: Boulder, Larimer, Archuleta, Chaffee, Routt, Gunnison, Rio Blanco, Mesa, Fremont, Garfield and Delta. The land office at Denver is taxed to its utmost to keep up with the rush for leases. Frequently several persons apply for leases for the same tract. The state owns 8,500 acres in Boulder and adjoining counties.

Gould is selling again on the Anaconda estate of Gold Hill, Cripple Creek. It has been the scene of several good strikes within the past few weeks. Last Saturday another pay chute three feet wide and averaging $40 to the ton was opened. Rich sylvanite ore has been encountered in a drift from the 400-foot level of the Savage Gold King.

Ore is coming from copper ore has been struck in the Cascade, Grand Encampment district, Wyo. The Ferris-Haggerty has resumed operations and is producing 50 tons of ore a day.

At a depth of 45 feet in the Angels group, near Mickenberg, Ari., a chimney of malachite and copper glance has been opened, which also carries $70 gold to the ton.

Eastern men have bought the World's Fair, in Harshow district, Ari., paying $500,000 therefor.

Grants pass, Ore., reports that asbestos in paying quantities has been discovered in the Upper Applegate district, near the Oregon-California boundary. A large number of claims have been staked.

On the Copper Dyke group, in the Burnt river district, Ore., a ledge from eight to 12 feet wide has been opened in which there is a good-sized streak carrying from 11 to 24 per cent copper.

The Smuggler-Union at Telluride, Col., in which there was a disastrous fire last November, is again hoisting to full capacity. About 450 men are on the pay roll and the mills are turning out from three to four carloads of concentrates daily.

Advices from Republic, Wash., note that several of the big mines will be ready to ship by March, when railroad connections with the camp will be completed. The Trade Dollar is running on quartz that runs from $14 to $18 a ton.

The Metal Market.

Another advance of ¼@⅛c was established today in copper. That was one interesting feature. Another important as well as interesting feature was the fixing on the floor of the metal exchange of 250,000 pounds of lake copper, sellers' option February-March, at 12c. This would seem to indicate faith in the strength of the speculative upper. The closing prices at New York were 11⅞c bid for lake, 11⅝c for electrolytic and 11⅝c for casting. The London market for copper was also higher. The spot being about £1 1s 6d@£1 2s 6d closing at £57 7s 6d and futures at £51 10s. Tin was a shade lower here, closing at $28 35@28 55, and London was 12s 6d higher, closing at £106 12s 6d for spot and £103 futures. Lead was unchanged here at $4 10 and unchanged at London at £10 16s 3d. Spelter was unchanged here at $4 27½ and London was 2s 6d higher at £17 2s 6d. Iron was quiet and steady, but unchanged at New York. Glasgow was a little higher at 49s 1d. Scotch Middlesboro was unchanged at 44s 11½d. Pig iron warrants closed steady and unchanged here at $11 00@12 00. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted $16 50@17 50; No. 2 foundry northern, $16 00@16 75; No. 1 foundry southern, $16 00@16 50; No. 2 foundry southern soft, $16 00@16 50.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Copper advanced today in spite of persistent selling of the metal. Three thousand tons were sold.

Hunger for Profits Wipes Out Advances

PRICES YIELD WHEN TRADERS BEGIN TO SELL

Hoped for Support in Wall Street Stock Market Failed to Materialize.

GAINS ALL WIPED OUT

Bears Take Advantage of the Absence of Support and Make a Successful Assault All Along the Line—Closing Was Active But Weak.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—There was a revulsion of speculative sentiment in the stock market today and the movement to sell gathered force up to the close which was active and weak. Generally speaking yesterday's gains were wiped out. The movement had no other obvious cause than the desire to take profits on the part of the professional traders, who had bought yesterday or earlier. It took only about half an hour of trading after the opening to demonstrate that the slightly increased demand attracted by yesterday's sharp advances was being so fully fed by profit taking sales as to repress any tendency to advance beyond small fractions. The contingent of bear traders was quick to take advantage of this situation and to offer down prices, taking the market away from the sellers. The character of the whole market thereupon relapsed into the rut of dullness and professionalism.

Traders Were Disappointed.

The animation of yesterday's late demand had aroused strong hope that the great banking interests which control the large railroad systems were once more embarked upon a movement to put up prices and make a market for syndicate holdings of securities. The disappointment at finding developments was correspondingly keen. The speculation felt acutely the lack of the stimulating effect of the recent strength in Amalgamated Copper. That stock continued easily the leader of the market in point of activity and made an initial advance of a fraction. When it seemed to be yielding the sympathetic effect of the market was immediate. The reason for its reaction was not disclosed. Conditions remained unchanged so far as was known.

Advance in Raw Copper.

The price of the metal was lifted another fraction and the buying in London continued very large. There was some selling by brokers usually employed by insiders, but this was the case yesterday. This selling and the apparent air of disapproval of the advance by insiders seemed to have added influence on sentiment today. The stock lost 2¾ on the day, closing within a shade of the lowest. Sugar showed the effect of disappointment over the failure to advance refined sugar and loses 1⅜ on the day. The large volume of trading in these two specialties gave them large influence on the market. What is regarded in regard to the outlook for peace in South Africa was not so confident today. A number of unfavorable reports of December net earnings were a depressing influence. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, Chesapeake & Ohio and Ontario & Western reported considerable decreases in their net earnings for December.

Shadow of a Strike.

The action of the United Mine Workers' convention in providing for a strike fund had a somewhat sinister effect on the trading. Money continued to grow easier. The heavy balances at the clearing house of some of the individual banks give rise to the supposition that large syndicate transactions are going on in the financial world, of which the public is not informed. There were sharp gains on small transactions by a number of dormant stocks, including several of the express stocks, the National Salt stocks, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, Northern Pacific and Transit and a number of minor industrials.

The bond market became irregular in sympathy with the weakness of stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,300,000. United States 5s, registered, advanced ½ per cent on the last call.

Another Bulge In Cereals

RETURN OF BULL CONDITIONS IN GRAIN MARKET

Substantial Advances Recorded During a Day of Extensive Trading.

OATS SCARE IS ENDED

Cables Were All Much Higher—Receipts of Wheat Small, Owing to Better Prices Quoted by Interior Mills—Corn Was a Strong Factor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—There was a return of bull conditions and bull feeling to the grain markets today. Nervousness resultant upon the recent raid in oats seemed to be dissipated and all markets closed near top prices. May wheat gained 1¼@1⅝c, May corn 1⅛@1⅜c, and May oats 2¼@2⅝c. Provisions closed 12½c to 27½c higher.

While the trade in wheat was not so brisk as in corn and oats the volume was greater and this pit became the leading speculative market. General bullish conditions prevailed. Cables were much higher, though there was no advance here yesterday. There was a report of fair export business and the northwest had brought well of red winter wheat. Northwestern and local receipts were very small and local offerings were scanty. Coarse grains were well up, especially in the western markets.

Mills Paying Better Prices.

Commission houses had very good buying orders and scalpers were the only ones who sold early. May opened 5⅝c to ⅝c up at 78¾@78⅞c and moved steadily with but slight setbacks up to 79¾c. Kansas City reported little movement of wheat to market because interior mills were paying higher prices. Even on the advance there was an absence of selling pressure in the trade. May closed strong, 1¼@1⅝c higher at 79¼@79⅜c. Local receipts were only 8 cars, 1 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 509 cars, making a total for the three points of 117 cars, against 316 last week and 209 a year ago. Primary receipts were 378,000 bushels compared with 443,000 bushels last year. Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 200 cars; corn, 525 cars; oats, 400 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Wheat opened firm, 1c to 1¼c higher, and sold up with hardly a break to 82⅝@82¾c. The close was strong, May 1⅝@1⅞c higher at 82⅝c. Receipts were 40 cars.

Oats traders acted differently again to the belief that the pit was sold, for the time being at least. Liquidation by outside holders seemed over and all the weakness due to the recent forced sale of a Kansas City trader's long line seemed to have been premature. At the outset prices were firm. Offerings were small, receipts were light and commission houses had good buying orders. The provisions crowd sold easily and for a time kept upward during the effort to start a good jump. May, which opened 5c to 7½c up, closed very strong, having made up all its recent loss. The net gain was 2⅝@2¾c at 44½c. Receipts were only 46 cars.

Provisions in Good Demand.

Markets for provisions gained material strength from grains, though there was a natural firmness from the light receipts and better prices at the yards. Short covering also helped in the upward move. May pork closed at top prices, 20@22½c up at $15 20; May lard 12½c higher at 8 02½, and May ribs 12½c up to 8 47½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 15 cars; oats, 45 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

Local Stocks Generally Firmer, Though Bad Breaks Occurred

FIRE PROOFING ACTIVE, BUT AT HEAVY LOSSES

The Common Stock Sold Over 3,500 Shares and Lost 2 3-4 Points.

FEDERAL NATIONAL BOOM

Stock Went Up to $141 and Closed $8 50 Higher Than Tuesday—Airbrake Gained $3 50 on a Good Demand—Steel Stocks Firmer.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was a mixed affair, unusual activity occurring in some few issues and just as much dullness in others. The tone, as a whole, was considerably firmer and some prices went up by leaps and bounds to big gains and new high records. A few issues showed unaccountable and pronounced weakness, making some odd breaks. This was especially true of National Fire Proofing common stock, which was literally poured on the market at the first call and seemed almost without support. All told, 3,520 shares changed hands, and from an opening at 50% the stock broke to 38 at the last call, but rallied ½, making the loss 2%. Tuesday it lost $1, so that the decline for the two days amounts to $2 75 a share. The preferred was also weak and declined from 48½ at the opening to 48 at the close, a loss of ½ on sales of 890 shares. There was nothing definite to account for the weakness. There are reports that the company's plans are progressing satisfactorily and that there is not much danger of competition, the fear of the latter having been the assigned cause for most of the recent weakness. The opinion is that the break is pure manipulation to shake out stock so that it may be acquired cheaply. If official talk is true the earnings of the company have been enormous, and there is a big surplus which, it is said, is shortly to find its way into the pockets of the present stockholders. Before any merger goes into effect. The plan, it is said on good authority, is to distribute this surplus in its entirety to the present stockholders, so that when the company goes into the proposed combine its stock will go in for more per share. If these things be true it will probably make the stock and cash dividends of the past shrink into insignificance by comparison. In view of these reports the weakness of yesterday and the day before certainly looks like a preconcerted effort to shake out stock.

In the other issues the most sensational features were in Federal National bank and Westinghouse Airbrake. The former started after the first call at 135½ and before the last one jumped to 141, a new high record. At the last call it closed strong at 141½, a gain of $8 50 for the day, and after the last sale 141 was there and 142 asked. There was no reason for the advance that could be obtained. The bulls say it's going to 160 on the present swing and to 200 before the year is out. Westinghouse Airbrake sold 40 shares at 177½@178½, closing strong, with a gain of $3 50 for the day. There are reports that the next dividend will be increased, but as it is about six weeks off yet it is hardly probable discounting such an event would commence now. The remainder of the list, with the exception of Pressed Steel Car and Window Glass, showed considerable firmness. The first named lost ½ at 84 and the second was dull and fairly steady at 41¾, Tuesday's price. The electrics and Switch common were firmer and higher. Guarantee Title & Trust went up 1½ to 129, and Allegheny National bank sold two shares at 155, a gain of 8%. The coal stocks were unusually dull, but not materially changed in prices. The steelers were fairly active and firm at fractional advances. Bonds were dull but steady.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,275,104 02.

It is reported, although not officially confirmed, that Louisville & Nashville has arranged to purchase the charter of the Nashville & Chattanooga stock held by the J. S. Rogers estate.

William A. Carr, treasurer of the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, has tendered his resignation to take effect February 15, and has accepted a confidential position with H. C. Frick. Mr. Carr was the organizer of the Union Trust Company and has been a most efficient official of the corporation until the present time.

It is reported that a general plan for consolidating the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Company has been decided upon, by which the latter will buy the former, allowing share for share of the stock.

Following are the following persons will apply for a charter for the Williamsburg Insurance and Trust Company: George C. Bowe, Joseph T. Mellor, Henry G. Rhoads, Albert C. Gavin and Thomas G. Moore.

At the first call $1,000 Philadelphia Company bonds were sold at 106 and interest. This is only the second trade in this bond on the local exchanges and the price was increased. They have been quite active in the east.

The Philadelphia Company yesterday placed on record in Washington, Pa., a mortgage for $22,000,000 given by it to the Union Trust Company of Baltimore. It is given for the issue of bonds to secure for the Philadelphia Company all existing interest in the big local traction, light, heat and power combination recently effected.

It is reported that the syndicate headed by E. L. Fuller of New York has offered to pay all stockholders of the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railway par for their stock. The direct control of the road is said to have been acquired. Over the Baltimore & Ohio management will also be included valuable coal lands in West Virginia.

In New York yesterday Judge Edward J. Thomas in the United States circuit court affirmed the decision rendered by the United States district court in the memorandum of which also Judge Thomas, a stock broker, who omitted putting the transfer stamps on a number of bills of sales in December, to test the constitutionality of the law.

The Penn City National bank has made a new ruling about the transfer of stock. In the future it will not transfer certificates unless the stamps are full paid. The effect of this ruling is to hasten payment of deferred installments on stock subscriptions, as delinquent action will tend to make all unencumbered funds represented by payment of the capital stock be full.

The Dominion government has approved an issue of $20,000,000 capital stock of the Canadian Pacific railway, subject to the sanction of the stockholders, and the proceeds to be expended as follows: New terminals at Montreal, $1,500,000; new elevators and improvements thereto, $500,000; new docks, $500,000; miscellaneous improvements, $500,000.

A telegram to A. E. Masten & Co. said that the copper situation: A bid of 12 cents per pound for the copper of Arizona is now being made. All indications are that it will sell at 13 cents and perhaps 14 cents next month. It was only natural that the rapid advances in copper stocks during the past month should have resulted in profit taking and a reaction. If the market is weak, however, we believe it will be only for a time, best of the copper. We do not think the advance has fairly begun yet.

Dividends Declared.

The Akron Mortgage Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable forthwith.

The Westcott Express Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, payable February 15.

NEWSBOY STOLE A COAT TO BUY SISTERS SHOES

Pleaded Guilty to the Charge and Told the Court His Sad Story.

SENT ONE DAY TO JAIL

Many Confessed to Larceny and Thefts and Got Sentences—H. W. Black Pleaded Guilty to Assaulting an 11-Year-Old Girl.

In the criminal court Charles Lovas, a boy appearing to be about 11 years of age, was brought before Judge Marshall Brown and pleaded guilty of the theft of an overcoat from Alfred Shonfeld. When asked why he stole the coat he said he did so in order that he might sell it and buy shoes for himself and two little sisters. He said that he sold papers to help support his sisters and mother, and unless he had shoes he could not work. The plea of the boy had its effect upon Judge Brown. The latter told him that he would have to send him to jail for one day and cautioned him against such acts in the future.

Attorney Thomas Norris of Wheeling, W. Va., appeared in the criminal court in behalf of Mary and Emma Goins, who pleaded guilty of the larceny of $50 worth of goods from Solomon & Ruben's and Kaufmann's. The prisoners are colored and came to Pittsburgh from St. Clairsville, O.

Pleaded For the Girls.

Mr. Norris, who is a friend of the Goins family, asked that the court be lenient with the girls, as this is the first trouble they have ever been in. Mary Strothers, who was alleged to be a party to the theft, did not appear when her name was called and a process was issued.

H. W. Black pleaded guilty of assaulting Dora Martin, aged 11 years, and was sentenced to serve 15 months in the workhouse.

Robert Jones pleaded guilty to the charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Thomas A. Cuch and was sent to the workhouse for nine months. Mr. Cuch is an officer in Homestead borough and was serving a warant on Jones when the latter resisted and struck him in the face. Jones pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery, carrying concealed weapons and entering a building, etc., preferred by Edward Weller of Homestead. The sentence was not increased.

George Wilson and Charles Johnston, both colored, pleaded guilty of robbing Mike Roubeck of a pocketbook containing $16 and were sent to the workhouse for 18 months. The defendants held Roubeck up on January 22 on Water street, near Ferry street, and robbed him and severely beat him.

Many Sentences Imposed.

The following other sentences were imposed:

John Dillon and George Blythe, entering the building of John McIntyre at Brilliant station and stealing miscellaneous articles valued at $15, three months to the workhouse; James Johnston, larceny of an overcoat from C. F. Ritter of Crafton, Pa., 30 days to the workhouse; Harry Shaffer, embezzlement of $29 83 from the C. H. Rowe Company on oath of A. H. McClurg, 90 days to the workhouse; Maurice Robinson, felonious assault and battery on Nathan Birch, two months to the workhouse; William Michalinski, larceny of a suit of clothes from Harry McGowan, nine months to the workhouse; Neal Doherty, larceny of $8 from John Campbell, 60 days to the workhouse; West Kesale, felonious assault and battery on William Corrigan, nine months to the workhouse; Jim Powell, larceny of jewelry valued at $28 from Stephen Simms, three months to the workhouse; Thomas Besanski and Henry Rosenski, larceny of two revolvers from J. W. Stephens of Natrona, 60 days to the workhouse.

Stole From a Hospital.

Maggie Mullen pleaded guilty of the larceny of clothing from patients at the Mercy hospital on December 14 and was sentenced to the workhouse for three months. The defendant had been a patient at the hospital and when discharged took the clothing with her.

Henry Jackson and Barbara Allen, both colored, were found guilty of stealing $60 from Carl Maner of 1202 Hazel street. The defendants were boarding with the plaintiff, and while he was absent took the money. Sentence was not imposed.

Can't Help the Smoke.

An answer was filed to the equity suit of Maud A. Williams against Jones & Laughlin's limited, to compel the firm to abate the alleged smoke nuisance in the Oakland district. The answer is identical with that filed some weeks ago in another case. In it the company says they have been operating their mills for 40 years without interruption and that they are not wholly responsible for the smoke in that district.

The following bills were returned by the grand jury yesterday:

True bills—Larceny from the person, Herbert Barrett, Thomas A. Coleman, James Preston, William Clark; larceny, Charles Scott, Edward Reynolds and Jacob R. Derst; aggravated assault and battery, Frank Bell and Albert Bennett; felonious assault and battery, William H. McFadden; misdemeanor, John Chaplin, Frank Conners; entering building, etc., Frank Gahn.

Ignored bills—Assault and battery, Joseph Rusovsky, Joe Smitt, Mike Solsok, Joseph T. A. Varnhagen; disorderly house, Rosie Lorclasi; larceny from the person, Rosie Lorclasi; felonious assault and battery, Frank Reese; forgery, William Smith.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Sophia Sloan of Pittsburgh and Mary Gores of Allegheny were discharged from bankruptcy.

By the will of John M. Kropp, late of Pittsburgh, an estate worth $2,500 goes to the testator's wife.

Executions were issued as follows: Braddock National bank vs. J. E. Walsh, $370 19; William J. Miller vs. J. A. Miller, $400.

The United States district court, Justus Muler, the receiver of the Waldon Company, was directed to sell 14 crates of crockery for $600.

William Schwer filed a bill in equity against J. S. Young to compel the latter to sell him a piece of property in Penn township under an agreement.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Henry C. Weber, a saloonkeeper of Pittsburgh. His liabilities are $4,600 22, and assets $2,800, of which $3,000 represents an insurance policy.

The will of John Caldwell, Jr., late of Allegheny, was filed for probate. An estate valued at $50,000 is bequeathed to his widow, Sarah Caldwell. Attorneys Shiras and Dickey represent the executrix.

The following decrees in divorce were granted: Anna McMurdy against Licurtis McMurdy; Sophia Nowak vs. Constant Nowak; Elizabeth K. Black vs. George W. Black; Laura J. Douglass vs. Elmer E. Douglass.

An opinion was handed down by Judge E. H. Stowe in the case of the Twin City Savings and Loan association against J. F. Zimmerman. The court directs a specific performance of a contract for the purchase of real estate.

Libels in divorce were filed as follows: Thomas A. Cochrane, Jr., against Anna Cochrane, infidelity; Robert J. McIntyre against Katie Z. McIntyre, infidelity; Margaret Middleton against Lorenzo Middleton, desertion; Lehy against Annie C. Whalen, desertion.

In the case of John Everly and wife against the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company, the plaintiffs were given a verdict for $1,000. Mrs. Everly was struck on the eye with a piece of torpedo used as a signal as she was walking alongside the railroad track.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce suit of Myrtle Chatham against George Chatham was filed. They were married July 15, 1895, and separated at McKeesport on April 1, 1900. Mrs. Chatham says her husband spent his pay for whisky, and when he became intoxicated he would beat and abuse her. On account of this treatment, she says, she left him.

In the United States circuit court yesterday an answer was filed to the petition of the Oliver & Snyder Steel Company for leave to intervene in the case of the Mercantile Trust Company against the Pittsburgh & Western Railway Company. The petitioners claim a balance of $34,730 on coke shipments, alleging they were to be allowed a rebate for the use of cars. The answer denies this.

Murray May Soon Leave Baltimore & Ohio

ORDERS FROM LOREE HAVE BROUGHT CRISIS

Expenses of the Traffic Department Must Be Reduced 40 Per Cent and Rupture Is Expected.

Oscar G. Murray's resignation as first vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is expected. President L. F. Loree has ordered him to reduce the expenses of the traffic department 40 per cent. Since the receipt of this order Mr. Murray has been in Hot Springs, Ark., and it is said that he may prolong his stay there until he formally severs his connection with the system. Mr. Murray is said to have been dissatisfied with his position since the Pennsylvania acquired control of the Baltimore & Ohio. President Loree's order has brought matters to a crisis.

To carry the reduction there will be weeding out of employes. Pittsburgh will be one of the cities most affected. Announcement of the changes were expected February 1, but a delay is now looked for. President Loree is likely to determine who shall go on the local division. He is well acquainted with the personnel of the office forces here. He will probably go further and exercise a direct authority in matters heretofore under Mr. Murray's sole control.

Mr. Murray's success as a traffic man in the east has been on a par with his distinction he achieved in the west. His first service was as ticket agent of the Galveston, Houston & Henderson, at Galveston. While with that road he became a member of the now famous dreibund, composed of himself, W. H. Newman, president of the New York Central lines, and the late Ralph Waldo, vice president of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. These young Texas ticket agents agreed that as each man rose he should take the others with him, as he was able. They lived up to the pact, and their success was notable.

Mr. Murray rose rapidly until he became freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific lines. In 1892, after four years of service in that capacity, he went with the Big Four, where he stayed until 1896, when he went with the Baltimore & Ohio. With John K. Cowen he acted as receiver for the system until the reorganization in 1899.

His present long stay in the west has given rise to the report that he will return to that section of the country, when he leaves the Baltimore & Ohio.

OSCAR G. MURRAY,
Who May Soon Retire as First Vice President of the Baltimore & Ohio.

President Ramsey Expected Today.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash, is expected in the city this morning to look after the interests of the line which is rapidly building into this city. It was supposed that bids for the construction of the parts of the line remaining uncontracted for would be ready at this trip. Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson says however, that several weeks will elapse before these contracts can be let.

LOCAL OFFICIALS ON RAILWAY COMMITTEES

They Will Play Prominent Parts at Meeting of Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association.

The advance circular for the third annual convention of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association to be held in Chicago March 18-21, are out. Pittsburgh is well represented in the committees that will report at that meeting. Thomas Rodd, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania lines, is a director of the association.

W. C. Cushing, superintendent of the eastern division of the Fort Wayne, is vice chairman of the committee on ties; Robert Trimble, principal assistant engineer of the Pennsylvania lines, is chairman of the committee on rails; A. R. Raymer, assistant chief engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is vice chairman of the committee on buildings; M. O. Erickson, assistant engineer of the Pennsylvania lines, is on the committee on signals, fences, crossings and cattle guards; E. F. Wendt, assistant engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is vice chairman of the committee on records, reports and accounts; Paul Didier, engineer of the Pittsburgh & Western, is chairman of the committee on water service, and J. A. Atwood, chief engineer of the Lake Erie, is on the committee on yards and terminals.

Plans Being Completed.

Plans are at last being completed for the building of the Cheat River railroad. It will go from Point Marion, near the West Virginia state line, to Parsons. This route would give it a position of importance, as a link in a seaboard route from Pittsburgh.

The line would also tap a region rich in lumber and coal. Both the Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt interests are watching Cheat River developments very closely. The Monongahela Railroad Company has been chartered to build a line from a point in Fayette county to Point Marion. It would extend the southwest branch of the Pennsylvania and the Lake Erie into the region tapped by the new Cheat River.

PRECEDENT FURNISHED BY THE MOLINEUX CASE.

Comparison of Signatures Ruled Out by Recorder Goff in the Patrick Trial.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Capt. James A. Baker again occupied the witness chair at the trial of lawyer Albert T. Patrick for the murder of William Marsh Rice almost the entire two sessions of court being taken up with his cross examination. The captain admitted that he had expressed no opinion as to the genuineness of the signatures of various papers bearing Rice's name, and which he now calls forgeries, until he had obtained the opinion of handwriting experts. He furthermore admitted that Patrick, before his arrest, had told him he desired a full investigation of his relations with the aged millionaire. The witness, too, declined to swear positively that Patrick was not present in Rice's apartments when the old man was at one time making dispositions relative to litigation he was involved in. The prosecution has been endeavoring to prove that Patrick and Rice never met.

When Mr. Osborne, for the people, offered the 1896 will in evidence as to the genuineness of the signature Mr. Moore, for the defense, objected, declaring that the ruling of the court of appeals in the Molineux case was pertinent. After listening to Mr. Moore, who argued the document was improper and irrelevant as evidence, Recorder Goff sustained the objection.

Norman Meldrum, a banker, testified that the signatures on the $65,000 and $25,000 checks were forgeries.

BURNED BY MOLTEN STEEL.

Cold Weather Causes Fatal Accident at Chicago Plant.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—In an accident known as a "slip" at the plant of the Illinois Steel Company, at South Chicago, early today Mitchell Obranski was killed and John Polackowich and three others, names unknown, were so severely injured that they will probably die.

It is thought the cold weather chilled the molten iron at the top of blast furnace No. 10 until it hardened and clogged. Then when the men opened the vent at the bottom to draw off the metal the whole mass fell down, forcing the seething metal out upon the workmen with a splash.

CHARTER FOR NEW CHURCH.

The Rev. A. H. Claflin Will Be the Head of the Gospel Mission Congregation in Allegheny.

Application will be made in common pleas court during the March term for charter for the "Gospel Mission church." The petition is presented by Speers Winston, E. A. Hunt, Frank Alton, R. W. Skillinger, A. H. Claflin and others. This church is the outgrowth of tent meetings started a few years ago by the Rev. A. H. Claflin, then pastor of the First Congregational church of Allegheny.

His congregation objected to the class of people that the tent meetings brought into the church. Mr. Claflin was asked to resign and refused. Two other requests for his resignation followed, but these were all turned down by the pastor. A vote was taken on April 1 by the members of the congregation, which by a majority of 3 resulted in deposing the pastor. Fifty of the original members of the congregation left the church.

He continued his tent meetings, and later secured the old Jackman property at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Chartiers street for $7,500. The homestead was remodeled and is now used for mission purposes. It is the intention of the Rev. Mr. Claflin and others to establish an Independent Congregational church.

MR. FRUIT'S CONDITION IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Temperature Low in the Morning, but Better in the Evening—Physicians Entertain Hope.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 29.—James S. Fruit of Sharon, Pa., collector of internal revenue for the Pittsburgh district, who is undergoing the X-ray treatment for cancer of the bladder at the Hahneman hospital here, was reported by Dr. J. E. Gilman, who has charge of the case, to be in fairly good condition this evening. During the day he partook of food, having a pretty fair appetite, and tonight was resting easy.

Mr. Fruit, who arrived here Sunday, has occupied a private apartment at the hospital since that time. His wife, who accompanied him to Chicago, is constantly at his side. Mr. Gilman and his assistant, Mr. Grubbe of the Illinois School of Therapeutics, visit the patient at the hospital for treatment every morning and sometimes in the evening.

This morning Mr. Fruit's temperature was rather low, but the physicians noted a change for the better toward evening. Regarding the prospect of the patient's recovery, Mr. Gilman will not commit himself, but he entertains hope.

Total Amount Added to the Memorial Fund Here Yesterday Is Estimated by Members of Local Committee at Nearly $40,000.

The fifty-ninth anniversary of the birth of the late President William McKinley was generally celebrated in Pittsburgh yesterday. In nearly all of the schools some sort of special exercises were held, and in many of the churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny memorial services were held in the evening. Yesterday was set apart by Governor William A. Stone as the day for school contributions to the McKinley Memorial association fund. Collections were taken up in the Allegheny schools Tuesday. By a ruling of the Central Board of Education no collections were taken up in the Pittsburgh schools.

No Collection Taken Up.

It has been the policy of the central board for some time never to recommend any collection in the schools on account of the many poor children, whom it might embarrass, would be able to contribute. Any contributions which the children wish to make must be sent direct to the treasurer of the fund.

Services in the schools were of the diverse character, but all had the single end in view, of honoring the nation's dead. Few of the schools had services, in which all the scholars participated, the observance of the day generally being left to the discretion of the teachers of different rooms. The dead president's favorite hymns were sung, short essays read, telling of his life, and addresses on his influence on the nation's politics were made.

Day's Estimate $40,000.

Every place the character of the services was of the simplest, to be kept in keeping with the purity and simplicity of the man in whose honor they were being held.

The closing day for collections for the McKinley Memorial association fund has not yet been decided upon. It is probable that contributions will be received for 10 days or two weeks yet. By the collections taken up yesterday and by donations which are expected to be especially liberal in view of the day the members of the local committee in charge of the fund hope to get a good sized subscription, which will materially swell the sum so far collected.

Returns of the collections will probably begin to pour in today, and keep on coming the rest of the week. Sanguine people are hoping for $50,000 as the day's sum, but the more conservative think this sum is a little too large to expect.
